Police exam alerts force to real duties

Will place men on eligibility list for future advancement

Five Arlington Heights police officers are cramming for an examination to be held at 9 a. m. August 11 by Arlington Heights Fire and Police Commissioners. The prize is a sergency on the local police force.

There is reason for the cramming because the board has frankly told the men that qualifications for the advancement will be determined by written, oral and actual demonstrations of the officers.

GRADINGS will be 25% on first aid, 25% on gunnery, 25% on police method and conduct, and 25% on knowledge of penal ordinances and law. Additional points up to 10 will be given for ascertained merit.

THE OFFICERS have been provided with Red Cross first aid manuals in which are 500 questions from which 25 will be picked out for the examination. Also practical demonstration of administration of first aid with volunteers from the audience as patients.

This part of the examination will be conducted and supervised by Joseph T. Ransdell and Arthur E. Raven.

Mr. Ransdell is a plant service foreman for the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. and Mr. Raven is a senior plant assignor for the same company. Both of these positions require a thorough knowledge of First Aid so that the holders of these positions are qualified to give First Aid instruction to Phone Co. employees.

MR. RANSELL was instructor in First Aid for many years, having taught First Aid to various Boy Scout units and to employees of the telephone company and during the years 1941-42 taught this subject to Civilian Defense classes.

Mr. Raven has been a first aid instructor for the past 19 years to various Boy Scout units and civilian organizations and during the years 1942-44 taught this subject to Civilian Defense classes and is at present the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. instructor in first aid to its employees.

GUNNERY portion of examination will be conducted and supervised by Edwin Dvorak. Mr. Dvorak has been a police officer on the Illinois State Police department for many years. In annual gunnery championship competition among 750 members of the State Police department, Mr. Dvorak has always been one of the top 6 in this competition, a fact which resulted in his being appointed gunnery instructor for the Northwest Pistol Association.

Examination has a double purpose and the sergency is not all that is at stake. It is expected to alert members of the police department to the fact that their job is something more than just driving a police car and directing traffic.

They are supposed to be also guardians of the health and safety of the public," stated a commissioner to the Herald Tuesday. "They should know how to expertly handle a gun, know the penalty laws, the right conduct of a police officer and many other things, which probably had never before been impressed upon them. The police department will not be on trial, but the public has the right to know officers who are drawing good taxpayers' money and in return are supposed to know and do their jobs."

WORD OF THE police efficiency program was not long in reaching the department and the past two weeks arrests have doubled and even tripled.

"Giving a ticket for a traffic violation, is not all that counts," says another police commissioner. "He is supposed to be fair and just and win the admiration, as well as the respect of the public."

Fred J. Scheuner, chairman, is asking the public to attend the examination August 11. "They will see for themselves how big a real policeman's job is and in return in the future give the department greater cooperation," said Scheuner.

SHORTED RADIO-PHONO CAUSES NIGHT FIRE CALL

A howling whistle late last Friday night called out the Arlington Heights Volunteer firemen to the home of John C. Sigwalt, 202 W. Wing.

Damage was confined to the shorted radio-phonograph, where the fire started.

Driver falls asleep; neck is broken

Herbert Franta, 47, who was on his way from St. Paul to his new home at 627 Parsons st., Des Plaines, crashed into a tree on the Northwest highway, Arlington Heights, between Yale and Princeton streets, at 6:44 Thursday morning. He was taken to the Palatine hospital, where it was discovered he had a broken neck. He died at 2 p. m. the following day.

Franta who is in the employ of the CCA, had recently been transferred to O'Hare field. With two sons, Herbert, Jr., 13, and Frank, 10, he was driving an auto with a trailer in which was packed household goods.

HIS SONS testified at the inquest that he had driven off to the side of the road several times during the trip to sleep a few moments. Franta told hospital nurses that he had fallen asleep. He had his full faculties above his waist but no feeling in his limbs.

The car on the south lane, crossed over to the north side of the four lane highway. The passenger car was completely wrecked by the weight of the trailer.

Mrs. Franta and two younger children had left St. Paul by train and were at their new home when she received word of the accident.

Cab radio appeal captures robber thug

A thug who hired Robert Hayes, 26, a Chicago cab driver, to take him to Central and Westgate roads, Wheeling township, where he slugged the driver with a 12-in. iron bar, was captured a short time afterward when a score of cabs, told of the incident by radio, rushed to the area.

After slugging the driver twice the thug took $10 from his victim and pushed him out of the cab. Hayes called the police, requesting them to notify the American United Cab Association.

A radio appeal to all cabs was heard over the radio of the car he had taken and the thug abandoned it at Central and Milwaukee.

One cab driver summoned to the man-hunt spotted a man at Oakton street and Milwaukee ave., who fitted the description of the robber. He and his relief driver forced the pedestrian to accompany them to the Morton Grove police station where he admitted the robbery and identified himself.

Two Norwood Park corps win in VFW parade

Two Norwood Park Drum and Bugle Corps won first place honors in the Veterans of Foreign Wars parade held in Arlington Heights last Sunday afternoon.

The parade, one of the biggest ever held, attracted ten bands from the surrounding area, as well as the 133rd Armored Division of the National Guard, a platoon of Marine Reserves, and by the local Lions and Kiwanis clubs, and a stage coach and riders from the Kirby Riding school in Des Plaines.

Norwood Park "B" corps won first place in the parade judging, with 87.6 points. Second place in that division went to Honack Post, with 82.3 points; and third place was won by Northwest Cadets, with 80 points.

In the field division Norwood Park "A" corps took first place with 95.4 points; second place was won by Aurora Moose, with 92.2 points; third place went to Chicago Cavaliers, 90.6; and fourth went to Ardennes, 84.7.

Double local draft call; open Des Plaines office

Because of revised quotas that have been received from Washington by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state selective service chief, the number of local men who are to report August 10 for physicals has been doubled.

Board No. 101, covering western Cook county, will send a total of 20 men. Board No. 102, Des Plaines, will send 30 men. They will all report for physicals at 1 p. m. Thursday.

The army, navy and air force report a greater number of enlistments than at any time since 1944.

SELECTIVE SERVICE office for boards 101, 102 and 103 has been opened at 1563 Ellingwood, Des Plaines with Mrs. Erickson as clerk in charge. Office hours will be from 8:30 to 5:00. The office is in quarters formerly used by the telephone company.

All correspondence and other matters on which local young men desire information can be secured at the new office in place of Chicago.

Local National Guard units have received no call as yet for active duty, but officers and men are reported to be arranging their private affairs so that they will be ready when they receive orders.

NEW ARMY TRAINING centers are being opened throughout the country and many national guard units will probably be used for the training of recruits which will undergo an intensive six weeks basic training in place of the fourteen weeks given during peace time.

"We will have these soldiers ready for combat—physically and mentally—in a little more than four months," a G-3 colonel said. "We can do this by working them 48 hours a week—20 per cent more than in peace time."

and by getting down to the real business of learning how to fight and how to protect oneself.

"This time we have enough officers, noncoms, and the weapons to train troops. We won't have to use dummy guns or paper tanks as we did in 1940. We are not only going to use training centers but we will also train raw recruits with combat-ready units in the United States."

Old Folks Home Auxiliary picnic today, Thursday

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, will hold its annual picnic at the Home today, Thursday, and everyone at the Home is looking forward to the day.

Invitations have been sent to all member societies, many of whom will come from Chicago and suburbs to the picnic by chartered bus and others by train. Everyone is asked to bring their own lunch or something suitable for a potluck luncheon. The Home will serve coffee and furnish paper plates, and cups. Ice cream, soft drinks and candy will be available at stands.

The residents of the Home are the guests of honor at this annual outing of the Auxiliary, and in addition to their picnic lunch each one will receive a personal gift from a grab bag of gifts. These are purchased by the Auxiliary from special donations received from the individual societies.

A fancy goods booth and greeting cards booth will again be a part of the picnic.

Wheeling youth who disappeared with horse reported still missing

Kenneth Kesler, the 16-year-old Wheeling boy who disappeared from his home a week ago Friday, on horseback, is still missing.

The case was reported to Police Chief Harold Mack who said this week that no word had been received as to the boy's whereabouts.

Arlington CC to offer prizes to school children if parents vote November 7

A record number of Arlington men and women will go to the polls November 7 if their children can bring it about. Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce hopes to arrange meetings with other civic organizations to make plans to get out a record number of voters at the coming national state and county election in November.

This is non-political. The effort will be directed to awaken all voters to their civic duty and go to the polls that day. "These are momentous days and every person should be sufficiently interested in what is happening in this world to go to the polls and elect the persons who they think will do the best job," says President Schneberger.

CHILDREN'S PART in the program means that prizes are going to be awarded to the school rooms which receive the greatest number of "voting slips." Each person leaving the polls that day will be given a certificate slip which in turn the voter can hand to his child or some other child who had previously solicited his attendance at the polls and the vote certificate.

"It is a novel idea," says Secretary Schwengel, "but it will be doing a good civic job in a new way."

Last park band concert tonight, Thursday; final concert at 4-H Fair

The last band concert to be held in Recreation Park, Arlington Heights this season will be held tonight, Thursday, at 8:30 p. m. The final concert of the season will be given at the 4-H Fair August 11, which is being held at the Arlington Park Race Track. The program will begin at 7:45 p. m.

Tonight's concert will feature Mrs. Melvin Gustafson, soprano soloist, who will sing "Desert Song" and "I Love You Truly," Mrs. Gustafson was scheduled to sing at an earlier concert, which was rained out. Ada Faulstich will also be featured in an accordion solo, "Accordiana."

Selections to be played by the Community Band, which is under the direction of F. C. Schmoeyer, are: "March of the Champions," "The Narrator," "Poem," "The Footlifter," "American Patrol," "To A Wild Rose," "Alouetta," "Copa Cabana," "Three Blind Mice," and "King Cotton."

CLASSES WILL convene at 7:30 p. m. and close at 9:30 p. m. with the exception of certain shop and sewing courses, which will run for a three hour session each night. Tuition costs are low, and an excellent opportunity is offered evening school students to secure courses in their home community. Many business firms are paying a part of the tuition and transportation costs to those of their employees who are attending evening school classes for self-improvement.

Most popular classes have been in shop work, including both machine and wood shop courses, tailoring, sewing, millinery, typing and shorthand, and in driver training. Over 200 people are taught to drive each season; the course will now be in its third year and two new dual-control driver training cars will be available, training with a staff of experienced instructors.

Install permanent electrical system for carnival use

A permanent electrical system has been installed on Douglas ave., Arlington Heights, for use of organizations giving carnivals and the like at that location.

In the past every time an event needing electric lights was held a special wiring job had to be done. In the future all that needs to be done is to plug into the permanent system and lights will be available, the only cost being for the use of current.

This permanent system was put in by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and paid for by them, the American Legion, and the Arlington Heights Volunteer Fire Department. Arrangements to use this system, may be made by contacting the Park Board.

Robinson is an ardent sportsman, and there is seldom an athletic event at the Arlington Heights high school, that one doesn't see him cheering for the Cardinals. When time permits he enjoys fishing trips. He is a member of the American Legion, Masons, Scottish Rite Bodies, and Shriners.

"Serving as a trustee is one of the most interesting experiences I have ever had," Robinson remarked. "People as a whole do not realize the problems which face a village board, and after serving on the board this short time I am now aware that it is easy for the other fellow to sit back and say how something should be done, but it sure is a different story when you're one of those who have to do it."

Though born in Durand, Ill., Trustee Robinson claims Platteville, Wis., as his hometown.

Annual report shows costs of operation of municipality

The annual financial statement of the village of Arlington Heights appears on page 8. The figures are large enough to merit more than a passing glance. Taxpayers will find it interesting reading. The report is taken from an audit completed by E. F. Laurin a month ago.

There is no red ink in the cash account. In fact the cash balance at the end of the year is about $25,000 more than the previous year. The expenses of the village totaled over $200,000. Tax receipts were only $80,000. Thus the village has a lot of earning power.

Comparison of the budget with actual expenses is another evidence of sound business methods practiced by the village board. The budget would have permitted the expenditure of $231,000. The actual expenditures were under $180,000.

The water department is the largest of any department in the village. Allowing for the retirement of water bonds, there was a profit of $10,000. Receipts from sale of water was about $48,000. All but $146.63 was collected.

Receipts from water permits and taps were $17,000, which increased the net revenue.

A full offering of adult evening school classes will be presented beginning September 25, and running for a 10 week term. In addition to academic classes for credit, a large offering in handicraft skills, art, square dancing, bridge, driver training and business courses will be offered. Qualified instructors from the community and surrounding region will be in charge of the courses.

Live stock exhibit breaks all records

The 4-H Fair Committee was surprised to find that the entries of calves, chickens, vegetables, sheep, rabbits, etc., raised by North Cook 4-H Club Members would practically fill the shedded large passageway from the Northwestern depot to the grandstand. The Committee met and built more gates and equipment to take care of this extra amount of stock for this show.

Arrangements have been practically completed for the merchant's displays and stands to be housed under the grandstand at the track. The space outside the entrance will be assigned to machinery exhibits and there will be a large number of seats in front of the grandstand.

"All together, we believe we have the finest facilities available for the 4-H Fair that could be wished for through the generosity of the Arlington Park Racing Club," states Martin Meyer, 4-H Chairman for North Cook County.

If it rains, there is a shelter over-head, and there will be ample parking space for all who drive to the Fair. The layout is expansive and the Committee has practically everything in order for the Fair which will be held August 11, 12, 13. It may be that harvest time will not quite be over by this time, but the evening program has been arranged for farm and town people who wish to attend to get in and spend two or three hours at this event. Admission is free.

To hold night school Mondays, and Thursdays

A contemplated change in the days of the week when evening school classes will be held at the Arlington Heights township high school beginning this fall will schedule most classes for Monday and Thursday evenings.

If there should be any civic, social or church organization with which this schedule would cause a serious conflict, they should notify the high school office of the nature of the conflict.

A full offering of adult evening school classes will be presented beginning September 25, and running for a 10 week term. 3-day event full of entertainment; square dances, bands, amateur hour

"The 4-H Fair at Arlington Park Race Track which will be held August 11, 12, and 13 has developed one of the strongest programs of entertainment we have ever had," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "We believe that the following running description of the program will give both farm and townspeople something of an idea of what they have to look forward to."

Livestock will be assembled and judged beginning Friday morning, August 11, and concluded about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Friday evening there will be a parade of the 4-H Clubs in North Cook county with their calves and all of the 4-H members who have projects impossible to parade.

AS WAS THE CASE last year, the Arlington Heights township high school band will give its last concert of the season beginning at 7:45 p. m. Following this the Barrington Township high school Square Dancers, who have appeared on several television programs, will give early American, Western and Cowboy dances.

A group of people in Lake county are carrying on a unique means of raising funds for cancer research. This is a program in costumes illustrative of songs of Stephen Foster, such as "Old Black Joe" and "Swanee River." It is felt that attendants at the 4-H Club Fair will be pleased to donate something to the cancer fund. Neither the performers nor the Fair Association will have any interest in these funds as they will go 100 per cent to research on this dread disease.

The evening's program will be concluded with a 30-minute film, "Waves of Green," which is a new release that illustrates the ways in which scientific research is helping agriculture work out its various problems of production, disease control, and insects.

SATURDAY a program for 4-H members in the forenoon on handling a tractor, and judging Home Economics exhibits, along with demonstration contests, will be held in the afternoon. The program of entertainment will start at 7:30 p. m. with a concert by the Maryville Academy Concert Band of Des Plaines.

Home Economics girls will hold their style show and the Lombard Junior Square Dance Team will perform for 4-Hers and friends. This square dance team has quite a reputation both on television and otherwise. The program will be concluded by a hilarious novelty number which was discovered on television, known as "The Laughing Grandmother," which will be accompanied by a novelty band of all the contraptions that go with such a musical depreciation group.

Sunday afternoon exhibits will be on display and a radio amateur hour will begin at 3 p. m. in the afternoon. A number of outstanding amateurs have been selected from radio and television and high schools, and will be presented in a two-hour program.

The evening's program, beginning at 7:30 will start off with the last 4-H Club parade. The Rural Youth will put on a Square Dance exhibition, which will be followed by the crowning of the 4-H King and Queen from North Cook county. This boy and girl will be selected from the various clubs of North Cook county by nomination and voting of the various club members and friends attending the Fair.

LAST YEAR Leonard Grimmer and Lois Jacobson were crowned King and Queen for 1950 and they will necessarily be relieved of their crowns and a new King and Queen elected in their places.

One of the outstanding men's quartettes in Chicago, "The Master Singers," will conclude the 4-H Fair in North Cook county.

New residents of high school age asked to register immediately

All students of high school age who have recently moved into Arlington Heights township high school district are asked to register at the high school, W. Euclid ave., Arlington Heights, immediately.

The high school office is open from 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon, and 1 p. m. to 4:30 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Residents of the Prospect Heights School district rejected the Board of Education's request to advance its taxing power by a vote of 133 to 107 at a special election held at the schoolhouse Saturday, July 29. Altogether 247 votes were cast with 7 being recorded as spoiled.

The Chicago office reported to this paper this week that the Waukegan office was closed in a hurry and Chicago was not provided with the figures from some of the towns. All records are now in Washington which today is the only source for the right answers.

Residents of the Prospect Heights School district rejected the Board of Education's request to advance its taxing power by a vote of 133 to 107 at a special election held at the schoolhouse Saturday, July 29. Altogether 247 votes were cast with 7 being recorded as spoiled.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 6, will be:

SPIRIT

The Golden Text is:
"The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law" (Gal. 5: 22, 23).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon, the following are from the Bible:
"God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things" (Acts 17: 24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:
"In the Bible the word Spirit is so commonly applied to Deity, that Spirit and God are often regarded as synonymous terms; and it is thus they are uniformly used and understood in Christian Science. . . . Spirit is the only substance and consciousness recognized by divine Science. . . . The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. . . . He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual" (pp. 344, 278, 331).

The Library corner

A valuable and interesting new five volume set of books called "Album of American History," published by Charles Scribner's Sons, has recently been added to the reference shelves at the Arlington Heights Public Library.

How did our forefathers dress; what sort of tools or utensils did they use, in what kinds of occupations; what did their houses look like, inside and out; in a word, if we could suddenly step into their world, what would we see?

The intent of the "Album of American History" is to tell the history of America through pictures made at the time the history was being made. The pictures themselves are the history with only a thread of text to identify and explain them.

The first book covers the Colonial period, from Columbus through the Revolutionary War. The second volume shows progress and expansion from 1783 to 1853, the eye of the Civil War. In the third book we glimpse the development of the industrial North, the agricultural South, and the new West: the Civil War and the Reconstruction Era, ending with the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago. Volume four is called "End of an Era," and brings the history up to 1917. The fifth volume is the Index, which enables the user to find quickly and easily all the pictures on any given subject.

If you feel like browsing, you will find these books truly delightful, informative and entertaining.

District 24 bonds sold at 2 1/2 bring premium of $858.60

School district 24, Wilson school, tax payers will be saved considerable money over the years that the $53,000 building bond issue runs. Competitive bidding, as requested by the Farm Bureau group paid off in a big way. The bonds were sold to Channer Securities Co. at an interest rate of 2 1/2% and a premium of $858.60 or an interest rate of 2.35.

The price not only reduces the interest rate a half per cent per year but the premium received pays legal and other expenses twice over.

Seven firms bid on the issue. The second bid was Municipal Bond corporation which offered the same interest rate and a premium of $432, making a net interest rate of 2.43.

Wheeling State Bank was the third bidder which at the same interest rate offered a premium of $286.20, or a net of 2.475.

The school board has ordered two sets of swings for the children, one eight foot and one 10 foot size. As the play yard equipment was very limited on the school grounds, the children will be very happy over this news.

Jean Ann Runge of Mt. Prospect spent a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Albrecht of Palatine rd., last week. Jean Ann's brother, Russell, had visited the Albrechts a few weeks ago and is now vacationing in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. C. E. Hanich had a gadget demonstration in her home last Tuesday evening, and quite a few of the neighbors attended. The Arlington Knolls group had a picnic at Beverly Lake last Sunday. The weather was perfect for swimming and everyone had a wonderful time.

Thomas and Douglas Challof of Chicago spent two weeks with the Fred Bistas of Rand rd. The boys are nephews of the Bistas. Mary Ann Bista took a plane to Pittsburgh to spend a week with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Steiger.

Happy birthday to Cpl. Fred Bista Jr. wherever he is now stationed. Cpl. Bista was home on furlough the first two weeks of July, but has not been heard from since he returned to his base.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Butcher and son, Bruce, of Cuyaloga Falls, Ohio, visited Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wallor two weeks ago.

Mrs. Butcher is Mrs. Wallor's sister. Mrs. Wallor spent last week in Defiance, Ohio, visiting her aunt, Miss Carrie Reynolds. Gilbert Klehm's mother of La Porte, Ind., returned to her home last Thursday after spending several weeks here at the Klehm residence.

Rev. Koester leaves Palatine church to head Lutheran Charities Fund

Voting members of Palatine Immanuel church Friday evening, regretfully released W. C. Koester as their pastor at the request of Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod—Charities Fund which had recently appointed him executive secretary of that organization.

Rev. Koester's duties will be similar to a publicity director in the commercial field. In addition he will act as a "clearing house" for Charity Fund agencies of all Lutheran churches of the area. He will analyze budgets and appeals for support, preach sermons relative to charity, make occasional visits to participating agencies and prepare and mail reports and bulletins.

It is recognized by the Lutheran church that the Charity Fund is giving the new executive secretary a big job, but they have selected a man who has had a lot of experience in similar work when he served as assistant in the office of Publicity and Stewardship in the St. Louis office of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod, and as a member of the present Charity board, he is thoroughly acquainted with its work.

DURING TEN YEARS that he has been pastor of the Palatine church that congregation has doubled and the school enrollment has increased to such a point that seven teachers are now required where there were only two in 1940.

Rev. Koester will continue to serve the Immanuel congregation as pastor until his successor is selected, but he expects to enter fully upon his new duties by November 1, when his new home and business office will be completed at 260 N. Schiller street, Palatine.

Rev. Koester is recognized as one of the most popular pastors among his parishioners in this area. His admirers extend to all denominations. Regret over his leaving his pastoral job is partially offset by the fact that he is going to continue to be a Palatine resident.

"Knowing Koester the way I do," said one of his board members, "he will be on call when emergencies arise."

Funeral services for Mrs. Christina T. Ruebner, nee Stopper, of Arlington Heights are to be held Thursday at 10 a. m. at St. James Catholic church. Rev. George Stier will say the requiem mass. Interment All Saints cemetery. Lauterburg and Oehler's were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Ruebner was born August 16, 1872 at Saukville, Wis., and died at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, July 31. She was married April 30, 1900.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Malzahn of Arlington Heights, and five brothers, Peter, Charles, John, Michael and Max Stopper.

Amanda Redeker

Funeral services for Miss Amanda Redeker of Des Plaines will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at Oehler's funeral home, Des Plaines. Rev. Fred A. Hertwig of Schaumburg will officiate. Interment Ridgewood.

Miss Redeker died July 31 at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. She was born July 26, 1891 in Schaumburg.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Johanna Busse Redeker, two sisters, Sophie and Emma Redeker, and four brothers, Louis, Henry, Fred and Ernst.

Emma Tesch

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Tesch, nee Kuhlman, of Arlington Heights, were held Tuesday at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Rev. William F. Kampfenkel officiating. Interment St. John's cemetery. Lauterburg and Oehler were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Tesch died July 29. She was born June 4, 1877 in Harmony, Ill., and married to Herman Tesch on October 25, 1894. Her husband died in 1940.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Esther Heuer, a son, Elmer F. Tesch; five brothers, Fred Kuhlman and William, Louis, John and Edward Pohlman; four sisters, Mrs. Helen Krause, Mrs. Elsie Traub, Mrs. Emma Meyer, and Mrs. Sophie Mahler, and four grandchildren, James and Ruth Heuer and Roger and Irene Tesch.

William Wischmann

Funeral services for William Wischmann of Palatine road, Wheeling, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights. Interment St. John's cemetery. Friends may call at Black's Memorial home from noon today, Thursday, until noon Saturday.

Mr. Wischmann died August 1 at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin. Survivors include his wife, Mathilda, nee Trost, and two sisters, Mrs. Lena Grandt and Mrs. Mary Rateike.

Plenty of Arlington Heights residents were on hand Sunday to watch the big parade as part of the VFW festival. Here are a few of the groups they saw go past:

Top, left to right: Bell post drum and bugle corps, an army vehicle of which there were many, Aurora Moose drum and bugle corps.

Bottom: Aurora Moose, late model entry, and Roland Carlson of Norwood Park and Victor Grimm of Arlington Heights watching.

Talent Teens have heavy schedule of shows for August

Television, carnivals and Legion activities are taking up a great deal of the Des-Mount-Arl Talent Teens' time this month.

Part of the troop appeared on the Fair Teen program last Friday night over WGN-TV, and another group will appear on the program August 11. This Saturday they will take part in the Don Morrison Night at the Edgebrook American Legion home, 6040 N. Cicero ave.

Next Saturday, August 12, they will entertain at the Prospect Heights Firemen's Carnival. As soon as the Teens' director, Mrs. J. M. Bosch, returns from Texas, she will begin lining up more veteran's hospitals, where the Teens will present shows this fall. During her absence the Teens are under the direction of their assistant director, Mrs. Charles Stadler.

Virgil Horath, Tailtwister in the Arlington Heights Lions club who helped to finance the troop's recent tour downstate, received a letter from his three brothers who saw the show in Mattoon. In part it read: "For an amateur show it excelled a lot of professional shows we've seen. We enjoyed it immensely, and so did the rest of the legionnaires and their families who were present."

Ward Knockemus, Boy's State representative, addresses Legion

At the last meeting of the Merle Guild Post, Arlington Heights, Ward Knockemus gave a talk on his trip to Boy's State. He was awarded the trip to Boy's State by the Arlington Heights Legion Post.

Boy's State is held every year in Springfield, Ill., under the sponsorship of the American Legion Department of Illinois. Each year the Merle Guild Post awards an outstanding local high school student an expense paid week at Boy's State where the boys study and participate in state government.

Ward Knockemus, a resident of Arlington Heights, is a Senior in high school. While at Boy's State he was elected County Recorder and City Alderman.

CARD OF THANKS

We are sincerely grateful to friends and neighbors for their many kind acts of sympathy during our sad bereavement. Our appreciation cannot be adequately expressed.

Use a good bull to improve the dairy herd. Such a bull should be able to sire daughters better than the cows now in the herd. The best investment is a proved sire, the next best is a good son of a proved sire.

NEW NEIGHBORS IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Taylor 309 S. Vail

Here are some newcomers, yet old timers in Arlington Heights! Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Taylor are known to many of you old-timers because they have lived at various places surrounding our town, but are newcomers to you neighbors on the south side of town.

Mrs. Taylor, originally from Detroit, Mich., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moyan, formerly of Mt. Prospect. Mr. Taylor, a native of Auburn, N. Y., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Taylor of E. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

These young folks, who both attended Arlington Heights high school, lived for several months in California and then in several locations outside of town. They moved to their attractive brick home at 309 S. Vail on May 1, and find it ideally located close to town.

The Taylors have one child, Monte, their 9½ month old boy and are expecting another newcomer in the family.

Mr. Taylor is employed with Taylor Tool and Supply company of Chicago and has had past hobbies of model airplane and model car building. Mrs. Taylor calls painting her hobby.

Newcomers term first picnic big success

The Arlington Heights Newcomer's Club had loads of fun at their first picnic held last Saturday night at Deer Grove park. After supper everyone participated in games and races. The youngsters present howled with glee to see their mothers and dads revert to childhood in such antics as three-legged races, sack races, egg throwing contests and carrying eggs on spoons. Wonderful prizes were awarded to the winners of these contests.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vanek, winners of the three-legged race won a bathroom scale; Mrs. Norman Vanek, winner of the sack race won a towel set; Mrs. Morrie Virnig, winner of the egg-carrying contest was awarded two copper planter vases, and the egg throwing contest was won by Bob Hutchinson and Mr. Barber who were awarded a set of salad plates and an electric clock respectively.

Two attendance prizes of $5.00 each were also awarded, one to Dr. Morrie Virnig and one to Leon Paul.

All Newcomers who attended the picnic thoroughly enjoyed the evening thanks to the work of Mrs. William Fischer, who arranged the party, and to Mrs. Edward Bastedo, Mrs. Sig. Hollinger and Mrs. Howard Schram, who were in charge of prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Largorio 305 S. Dunton

"We have been in Arlington Heights since last April, and certainly like it," said pleasant Mrs. Largorio. This new family moved to their spacious red brick residence at 305 S. Dunton from Austin in Chicago. Their home was formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Crooks.

"One of our main reasons for moving here was because of the fine youth center and high school for our daughter, Mary," said Mrs. Largorio. Mary, a pretty brunette, is 13 years old and just finished eighth grade this June. She has been taking advantage of the swimming pool at Recreation Park, and "you'll find her there most every day," said her mother.

"Swimming, fishing and reading are some of our hobbies," said this newcomer. The family just returned from a two week vacation in northern Wisconsin—had a wonderful time.

Mr. Largorio is an attorney for Chicago Title and Trust company.

Gladiolus exhibit to be held at Garden Center

An exhibit of many outstanding varieties of gladiolus flowers will be held by the Chicago Horticultural Society in conjunction with the Illinois Gladiolus Society at the Garden Center Hall, 115 S. Michigan ave., beginning Tuesday, August 1, and extending until Tuesday, August 15. The purpose is to display for the benefit of Chicago gardeners the actual flowers from which they may best choose varieties that please them most for their own gardens.

The exhibit is being arranged and staged by a committee including Mr. and Mrs. Harold Durand, Mount Prospect, and Mrs. Arthur Nelson, Prospect Heights. The exhibit will be open from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. (except Saturdays and Sundays). Admission is free and the public is invited.

Reading for Children

A child should not be encouraged to read before the age of six because his eyes are not ready for near-point concentration, and he may damage his vision, according to the American Optometric association.

Up and Doing 4-H club

The 10th meeting of the Up and Doing 4-H club was held July 25 at the home of Pat Harrah. The program included Elaine Hagenow with "Dining Table Covers," Marilyn and Barbara Petersen and Marlene Kerschke with "Cookies." Talks were given by Diane Deeke and Helen Grimm on "Fire Prevention."

The club had a very successful local achievement and seven girls are eligible to compete with their dresses at the State Fair. Plans were made for County Achievement day which was held August 2.

On July 19 the club held its Local Achievement at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran school. There were 49 projects exhibited in the clothing, food and room improvement fields.

Elaine Hagenow gave a demonstration showing how to make a corsage and Adeline Kerschke gave a demonstration showing how to make chocolate chip cookies.

We introduce to you

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Halvorsen of 735 N. Harvard, and daughter Margaret Ann, 10½ years old. These newcomers joined our family group June 1 when they purchased and moved in their Cape Cod style home, formerly owned by the De Vaneys, who moved out of town. In the short time they have been in their new home, they have been as busy as bees re-landscaping, and the results are excellent.

They have always wanted to live in the suburbs of Chicago, particularly the northwest. Because Mr. Halvorsen loves to fish whenever he has the spare time and wanted to be nearer the lakes is another reason they like the northwest.

Margaret Ann will enter 6th grade this fall and is eager to become acquainted with her new school and classmates. She has entered the swimming classes at the park pool and is in the intermediate group. Playing pianoforte she is in the Infant's Wear is another of her "likes."

The Halvorsens have another daughter, Mrs. Herbert Cuniff of Elmwood Park, who has been married for two years. She and her husband are just as enthusiastic over her parents' new home as they are themselves. They have lent helping hands quite often, and now her husband has offered to paint the outside of the house. No wonder there is much happiness in the Halvorsen establishment, with all eagerly working together.

Mr. Halvorsen is associated with the Galvin Manufacturing company, makers of the Motorola radio, in Chicago. Singing is his one big hobby and he is a member of the Motorola Glee Club, adding to the bass section. His favorite sports are skiing, skating and fishing.

In addition to her household duties, Mrs. Halvorsen is employed by Wieboldts in Evanston. Playing pianoforte she is in the Infant's Wear department. Her hobbies are sewing, gardening when she has time and she also sings in the church choir.

They are originally from the east, Long Island and Brooklyn, where Mrs. Halvorsen's brother is now living.

They have found their neighbors to be friendly and hope to have more time to become better acquainted with their surroundings after they have gotten their house in order. On being given a "birds-eye-view" of the Newcomer's club, Mrs. Halvorsen expressed a desire to hear more about it.

House guests
Miss Patricia Skirvin of Bloomington, Ind., student of the University, was a guest of Mrs. Jean Smiley over the week end.

Miss Barbara Cheney, daughter of the Harold Cheneys, will entertain Miss Marilyn Hull, Jack Cummings and Bill Kendall, all of Indianapolis, Ind., this week end. Marilyn, Bill and Barbara will be students at De Pauw university this fall and Jack will attend Purdue.

Mrs. J. M. McNally of Tulsa, Okla., mother of Mrs. Stephen Paddock, returned home recently after a two week visit with the family.

Miss Marilyn Shaeffer of Atchison, Kans., niece of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Boumann, is vacationing with the family for several weeks.

Celebrate birthdays

Mrs. Alan Briel gave a party in honor of her husband's birthday on July 24, at which time his family and a few immediate friends joined in feasting him.

Dwight Pate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert W. Pate, marked his ninth birthday with a swimming party at the pool, with eight of his friends; later all returned to his home for refreshments of birthday cake and ice cream.

Mrs. Joseph Miller surprised her mother, Mrs. Lily Hollenstein, with a party on her birthday last Wednesday to which 10 of her old friends whom she had not seen for years, were invited. Needless to say, Mrs. Hollenstein was both surprised and happy to see and be with her old friends again.

A big day in the life of Johnny Anderson was that of July 23, when he became six years old. Seven of his little friends joined him in his fun. Cowboy movies and two cartoons were shown, games were played and refreshments were served. The seven little "Hop-A-Long" Cassidy's who rode in on their white horses were Billy and Bobby Baker, Kenney Mueller, Willie Konehar, Tommie Klement, Jack Buckley and "Dougie" McPhail. Johnny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Anderson Jr.

Birthday came in bunches in the Wilbert Pate family. Monday was Marcia's seventh birthday. She had her party too, with all the trimmings and 12 little boys and girls were invited in to help her. They had a gay old time playing all sorts of games and did justice to the refreshments.

Neighbors go a-visiting

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Bowmann returned recently from Des Moines, Iowa, where they visited their friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cotton.

Neighbors home
Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Balducci and family returned last week from a two week vacation with Ralph Willard and family of Robinsdale, Minn., near Minneapolis. Mrs. Willard is a cousin of Mrs. Balducci. It was a visit of gaiety and sadness, since Mr. Willard left for active duty in the army, destination, Korea.

The T. A. Williams family have truly been on varied vacations. Their son, David, visited for two weeks with Mrs. Williams' aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McDonald of Duluth. This past week Mr. and Mrs. Williams vacationed for a week in Minneapolis, St. Paul, Virginia lodge, Moose Lake; then on to Duluth where they visited and picked up David. On their way home they stopped off for an hour or two on Sunday and saw their son, Tom, who is at the Boy Scout camp at Napawan. He will return on Wednesday, after being away two weeks. Their youngest son, "Buzzie," will come home on Thursday, after spending two weeks in Inverness. Looks like there will be quite a family reunion at the Williams house next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolf hold anniversary celebration

Fifty-five guests helped Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf of Arlington Heights celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary July 30. (July 24 was their actual anniversary day).

Included among the guests were the Wolfs' children, Miss Bernice and Miss Ruth Wolf, Arthur Wolf and Mrs. George Bozee, and their five grandchildren.

Up until two and a half years ago Mr. and Mrs. Wolf had made their home on a farm outside Arlington Heights and since then have lived in town.

FAVORITES

For FLAVOR

by MARILYN McLENNAN

Whether you've a tempting bowlful of plump, red raspberries, tender blueberries, fresh peaches, plums or just a few juicy apples, you'll want to don your apron and transform them into this dessert triumph.

Berry Kuchen or open face fruit pie.

It's like this recipe because it is so easy to make and can be varied using fruits seasonable at any time of the year," explained Mrs. William Mueller as we conversed about her pet recipe. Irene Mueller not only likes to cook and manage her charming, brown speckled brick ranch home in Inverness Countryside, but also has a flare for writing and enjoys preparing her Itemized column featured in this paper.

Fresh or frozen boysenberries are a special treat when served this way, and fresh, frozen or canned fruits may be used with equal success.

Our conversation rambled to freezers and the processing of frozen foods. "Did you know you can freeze whole tomatoes," asked Mrs. Mueller. "My neighbor does and says they are delicious."

We pass this valuable tip to you who like to capture and preserve the unexcelled flavor of your vegetable garden and then pop delectable surprises on your dinner table some cold, blustery winter night. Imagine fresh, home-grown tomatoes in January!

Peel firm, ripe tomatoes, leave whole. Wrap individually in cellophane - freezing bags and freeze. When ready to use place in refrigerator and slice before completely thawed. A real winter treat... as simple as that.

Berry Kuchen

(Open face fruit pie)
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 cup sugar
1 large egg
Mix dry ingredients, work in flour thoroughly, add beaten egg and mix. Toss on slightly floured board and roll 1/2 inch thick. Place in a square or oblong pan.

For berry pies use about a quart of berries, sugar to taste, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 3 tablespoons cream or milk, the yolk of 1 egg and a dash of cinnamon.

Place berries (or sliced or halved peaches, plums, apples) on crust, add sugar, lemon juice and cinnamon. Lastly add cream and egg yolk mixture. Bake until crust is browned in a 350 degree oven, about 30 minutes.

chairman is Mrs. H. L. Lussow, and Mrs. Wilbur G. Inman will guide the Music Study group and handle the musical portions of the club programs.

Veteran's service chairman is Mrs. George Hauff. Her committee encourages the club's support of all Veteran's projects. She plans to stimulate interest also in the formation of a Gray Ladies' group in this community.

Mrs. Richard Bronwell is chairman of the American Home committee. Mrs. Walter Patzlauff and her Youth Conservation committee plan to work with the Public Welfare group in the presentation of the Village Theatre's November production.

Sponsor of the Junior Woman's club is Mrs. V. H. Beisler. Mrs. Paul R. Ramsay is chairman of the committee for the Park Ridge School for Girls and Mrs. Albert J. Peters will head the Infantile Paralysis drive. Mrs. W. P. Hermsdorf will take care of the auditing for the club. (AM)

Fred Fiedler takes Des Plaines girl as bride

Community Camera

The home of the bride's parents was the scene July 8 of the wedding of Miss Eleanor Tentscher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Tentscher of Des Plaines, and Fred Edward Fiedler, son of the William Fiedlers of Arlington Heights. Rev. Carl Busch performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length gown of yellow dotted swiss with a crown of yellow and white flowers in her hair. Her bouquet was also of yellow and white. She was given in marriage by her father.

Her only attendant was Mrs. Eleanor Minnich of Des Plaines, who wore a green and white dotted swiss dress, with a crown and bouquet of green and white flowers. Joe Mayer of Arlington Heights was best man.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the American Legion home in Arlington Heights. Mr. and Mrs. Fiedler honeymooned in the State of Washington, and are now at home in Morton Grove.

AAUW end playschool for Mexican-Americans

This August members of the local chapter of American Association of University Women have some important tallying to do: chalking up facts and figures on their third annual summer playschool for Mexican-American children.

Over 75 children, whose families are migrant workers in the rich farm area surrounding Des Plaines and Mt. Prospect, registered for morning sessions at the playschool, held throughout July at First Congregational church, Des Plaines.

"Chicos" from four to 12 years old had fun.

A. A. U. W.'s worked hard to see that every child attending had something to play with, something to make and something good to eat for mid-morning snack time.

Free complete physical examinations and a series of smallpox, whooping cough and scarlet fever "shots" were given to the children by Dr. Elfriede Horst in cooperation with the Cook County Health department.

But most of all the migrant farm kids liked all the "extras": colored movies of themselves at the A. A. U. W. school; singing and playing games with William Kuite; and "Cokes" from the big red dispenser in the church basement.

Idea for a recreational-educational playschool for the come-and-go families who work on the big farms grew out of the suggestion of Dr. Elfriede Horst.

Busy Dr. Horst always had time for treating the needy and sick among the migrants, but she wished something more could be done to give the kids a break, and a place to have fun, she said, speaking before a meeting of A. A. U. W.

Lilah Schroeder bride of Robert R. Smith

Miss Lilah Mae Schroeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder of Palatine, became the bride of Robert R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Smith also of Palatine, Saturday at St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church. Rev. Glenn G. Gumm officiated at the 6 p. m. service.
 Harold P. Berg was the organist and Miss Dorothy Meyer sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The church was decorated with ferns, palms and baskets of white gladioli. The bride was given in marriage by her father.
 Miss Schroeder's gown was of satin and lace with a square neckline set off with broad lace band work. The dress had long lace sleeves, and the entire bodice was of lace. It had a full skirt and long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a coronet beaded headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.
 The maid of honor, Miss Mildred Oltendorf, wore a gown of yellow silk chiffon, fashioned with a round neckline with a collar, giving a cap sleeve effect, and the dress had a full skirt. Her headband was of red roses and so was her colonial bouquet.
 Miss Joan Ninneppann, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Wesley Newbanks, sister of the groom, wore gowns styled the same as the maid of honor's and had headpieces and bouquets of red and yellow roses.
 Lee A. Kash, fraternity brother of the groom at Bradley university in Peoria, was best man, and Wesley M. Newbanks and Robert Schroeder, brother of the bride, were ushers.
 A reception for 100 guests was held that evening at the Roselle Country club. Mrs. Schroeder received in a navy and white sheer dress, with pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Smith wore a multi-color sheer with red carnation corsage.
 The newlyweds are honeymooning in the Smokey mountains and will live in Peoria while the bridegroom completes his senior year at Bradley.

Donald Patterson and Indiana girl marry

The marriage of Beverly Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Landes of Anderson, Ind., to Donald Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Patterson of Oak ave., Bartlett, took place at three o'clock Saturday afternoon at the bride's home in Anderson.
 The Rev. Waldron of the Presbyterian church of Greencastle, Ind., read the service in the presence of thirty members of the immediate families. The only attendants were the bride's cousin and the groom's father.
 The bride and groom are the sons of Chicago. Linda Kay's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Hines, came from Leo, Ind., for the occasion.
 A Saturday dinner guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Pfingsten was Henry Bloss Sr. of Chicago.
 Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Erickson were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erickson, who have just returned after spending two months visiting in Norway, and their daughter, Mrs. Booth, who is visiting here from the East.
Baby shower
 Mrs. Robert Barbour was hostess Friday at a luncheon and baby shower given in her home in honor of Mrs. Robert Lonze. Eighteen guests from Scarsdale Estates attended.
 Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pedersen and several of their friends enjoyed an outing of a picnic and fishing at Mr. and Mrs. Pedersen's farm and lake near Crystal lake.
 Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hines of Leo, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Reinshagen and daughter, Linda, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Allison, of Chicago, and Robin Mills of Arlington Heights enjoyed a picnic in the Forest Preserve Sunday afternoon.

Married Saturday
 Dorothy Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis of Des Plaines, and Stanley Mensching, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mensching of Arlington Heights, were married Saturday, July 29. The couple are now living at 404 N. Douglas ave., Arlington Heights.

Stork Feathers
 Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Bittner of Arlington Heights are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Monday at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin. He weighed six pounds. He has an older brother, David, three years old.
 A son, Robert Patrick, was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Kindler of Arlington Heights, July 26 at St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin. He has two sisters and a brother to help take care of him.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT
 Climaxed by a parade — and a fine one — and a corps competition, the VFW festival lived up to expectations for the many villagers who took part during its five-day stay. The special exhibits — the airplane, for instance, and the State Department of Conservation Wild Life show drew the extra-large crowds to the carnival grounds.

As usual, both youngsters and adults thrilled to the parade. Liberally sprinkled with champions, and seeming to provide more music and less drum-beating, Twirlers performed their most intricate maneuvers—when the trees in residential areas didn't interfere. Resplendent in brightly colored uniforms, the bands represented such prominent groups as the Ardennes Post of the American legion, the Aurora Moose and the Rockford FOE. All of these bands were champions in their class.

Also part of the parade were armored vehicles from the local National Guard unit. Half-tracks with mounted guns as well as jeeps and command cars and other trucks and artillery were interspersed with the musical units. When the parade was forming near the high school, it was easy to see which units were most popular with the small boys—some guardsmen even let them sit in one of their vehicles before getting underway.

A group of business men's organizations also had floats for the parade, including the Lions, who recruited recalcitrant members of their organization along the line of march. Whenever the "float-riders" spotted a member who was merely observing the doings, he was urged to climb on the float and was made the center of attention until he complied with the suggestion.

Yes, with highlights and side-lights, with a carnival and a contest, the VFW festival was chalked up as successful for the organization and popular with the participants.

Quilt-ultimate
 Imagine a quilt, depicting brides through the ages? With each figure wrought of several tiny pieces of cloth appliqued to a square of blue material! This is the latest handiwork of members of the Arlington Heights Nurses club. Because the women who worked on it were proud of their job—with good cause—they invited the rest of the nurses and friends, about 100 in all, to an open house at the home of club president, Mrs. Albert Peters, to see the quilt displayed.

Thirteen countries are represented on the quilt, starting with the Egyptians and including the first bride dressed all in white. Included in the pattern was the Roman bridegroom carrying his bride across the threshold, the Pilgrim bride sitting on a scale balancing a dowry chest of silver, and the Chinese bridal procession, with the bride and groom represented by coolies, conspicuous by their absence. Also on display was a Dresden plate applique quilt made by the group which will belong to some local person after the card party the club plans for November.

Arlington Nurses, who spend long hours on their quilt-making, really enjoy their work, and incidentally, augment the club's gift from one guest—made the birthday celebration July 27 of Mrs. Al Fisher of Twin Lakes, Wis., a huge success.

 Mrs. Fisher, a former Arlington resident for many years, had guests from Arlington, Chicago and Des Plaines for dinner and her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Klipper of Des Plaines, with children Deborah Kay and Mary Lynn, stayed for a week's visit.
 It has been the custom of one relative of Mrs. Fisher to renew her subscription to the Herald as a birthday gift each year since she moved to Twin Lakes in 1945.

Clever Clovers and Sewing Susies meet

by JUDY LIST

Clever Clovers and the Sewing Susies, two local 4-H units, had their Local Achievement program at 7:30 p. m. at the Faith church Friday, July 21. One member of the Dizzy Daisies also took part.

After the Pledge of Allegiance they sang "America." Then they said the 4-H Club Pledge and sang "I'm Looking Over a 4-H Clover." Miss Dorothy Dittich, junior leader of the Clever Clovers, extended a hearty welcome to all the parents and friends. A reading, "The Raggedy Man," was given by Judy Peterson.

Demonstrations were given by both units. Instructions on measuring baking ingredients were given by Carol Huber, also instructions on baking cookies were given by Marlene Krambeer. Instructions in marking a hem line were given by Mary Ann Fabian and Audrey Gronert, also instructions in shirring were given by Judy Stadel.

Doris Rudolph played "Rustles of Spring" on the piano. The Clever Clovers then put on a humorous skit. After the leaders of both units were introduced by Dorothy Dittich, all the girls modeled the clothing they made during the past year. Some of the Clever Clovers then displayed some of their baking achievements, such as cakes and cookies.

EL RANDO BEATS WEBBER TO TAKE HEIGHTS SOFTBALL LEAD

Woodstock pitcher batting champion of New Six league

Fred Herbertz is fourth with .389 for Palatine

Burt McCannon, pitcher and outfielder for Woodstock, won the New Six League batting crown for 1950 according to official averages released by G. A. McElroy, league commissioner. McCannon garnered 15 hits in 33 times at bat for an average of .454 in 10 league games.

George Hansen who played the last part of the season for Barrington and was one of the top hitters in the Northwest Conference Spring season, ranked second with a .444 mark. Gary Allen of Elgin took third with .440.

Palatine's Fred Herbertz hit the ball at a .389 clip for fourth place and Phil Judson took fifth with .384. Forest Berghorn of Barrington was second in hits with 14 and had the most times at bat with 38.

Barrington's league winning Bronchos coached by Les Harmon won the league with eight wins in 10 starts. They had earlier taken the Northwest Conference title during the spring season.

Barrington had four .300 or better hitters in Berghorn .368, Trankle .353, Shuett .333 and Hansen .444. Prochaska with .286, Whitmer .273, Osinski .271, and Iverson .266 also had good averages. Barrington with an average of .289 had the best team batting record.

Palatine had only two .300 hitters in Herbertz .389 and Rick Jarvis .333. Most of the Palatine regulars batted under .200, accounting for the low rank of the Palatine team which shared last with Hebron, a team which hit only .204.

Murphy fails to gain on L-Nor in St. James league

STANDINGS
L-Nor Cleaners 52
Murphy Insurance 47
Urick Landscape Service 47
Stefanik Dairy & Food 42½
Wulbecker Furniture 42
Prospect Hts. Pharmacy 32

The Urick Landscape Service team gave Murphy Insurance's chances of representing our league in the Paddock tournament a terrific jolt last Wednesday night by scoring an overwhelming 8 to 0 victory. Urick's is now tied for second place, the highest position they've held all season in the St. James Golf League.

Wulbecker Furniture Service dropped to fifth place as they absorbed a 7½ to ½ point shellacking at the hands of Prospect Heights Pharmacy. The latter team has improved a great deal the last few weeks and is now winning a good share of match points.

The league leaders, L-Nor Cleaners, lost to Stefanik Dairy & Food 6½ to 1½. Despite their loss, the leaders increased their lead from 3½ to 5 points due to Murphy's being shut out.

George Glow and Pat Gilmore turned in the best scores of the season thus far as they each scored a 38. They also tied with Joe Schmidt for low net with 31.

One more week's play will determine our entrant in the Paddock tournament. At this point, barring a terrific upset, L-Nor Cleaners seems to be the winner of our league.

List pairings for Inverness club tournament

Pairings in four classes for the Inverness Club championship have been announced by Stan Arendt, the club's popular pro. Qualifying rounds were played with the low 16 in classes A, B and C being paired for match play competition. In class D only five men played qualifying rounds. The tournament will be completed by Labor Day when awards for all the monthly tournaments will be presented by Knox Bourne of Prospect Hts., president of the club.

First round pairings in class "A" for men with 12 or less handicap bring together Greg Fahey vs. Dan Healy, M. W. Keifer vs. Hubert Pelky, J. Courtney vs. W. Peterson, and Arthur McIntosh Jr. vs. Tom Smith in the upper bracket.

Lower bracket pairings are: G. Oenning vs. Way Thompson, F. Wenter vs. Ted Meeker, H. Hodgson vs. Tom Hicks, and Ronald Prellberg vs. Gilbert McIntosh. Greg Fahey is club defending champ having beaten Way Thompson in the final last season.

Tom Smith of the Palatine High team is in the upper bracket and Ron Prellberg, Arlington High, is in the lower section but both will have to play unusually good golf to advance in the star-studded Inverness "A" class.

CLASS "B" brings together C. Carpenter vs. Charles Smith Jr., Knox Bourne vs. Len Lang, W. B. Leavitt vs. G. McElroy and W. Frank vs. Rog Hutchinson in the upper bracket. Lower bracket pairings match E. Schragel vs. W. F. Thackeray, H. Broune vs. F. E. Withey, Roy LaLonde vs. Fred Hohenhorst, and M. W. Prellberg vs. the winner of a play off tie between Gilbert Valentine and K. Newhouse. Hubert Pelky who won class "B" last year is now in class "A".

Class "C" matches W. Mathias vs. Ted Christensen, L. W. Allen vs. H. J. McAlpin, K. Layden vs. Ed Haseman and E. Moore vs. J. M. Coates in the upper bracket. In the lower bracket the pairings are L. Robertson vs. S. D. Anderson, A. Ciccone vs. Don Foster, E. W. Lersch vs. W. D. McFarland and N. Sheach vs. E. J. Savage.

Class D has Carl Scharninghausen playing Dr. Mankenberg in the first round with H. Carlson, John Day and Ed Fleisher drawing byes.

Saturday deadline for team entries in Paddock golf

Saturday is the deadline which will determine which team from each of seven leagues will play in the Paddock Publications Golf Tournament. The secretary of each league will list with Paddock's by Monday, August 7, the players of each team which tops the standings in their respective circuits. Handicaps for each player based on league play will be figured and published in next week's paper. No one may compete in the tournament who has not posted six league scores.

The tournament is set for 1:30 on Sunday, August 13, at the Mt. Prospect Golf Club, home course for three of the seven leagues to be represented. Each team will be limited to four players who will play 18 holes on a team handicap basis with net team scores counting in awarding the trophy and medals. Members of teams finishing first, second, and third will receive beautiful medals. The winning team will have a one year ownership of a three foot high traveling trophy which must be won three times for permanent possession.

THE TOURNAMENT will be played on a winter rules basis with players permitted to move the ball with the club head for a better lie on the fairway. Otherwise U. S. G. A. rules will apply along with a few modifications in effect at the Mt. Prospect Club.

Players will be matched up in foursomes with no two men from the same team in the same foursome and with players matched with comparable handicaps to make competition more interesting. The Mt. Prospect League will furnish seven capable scorers with one assigned to each foursome.

Leagues which will enter their top team in the tournament are Arlington, two Mt. Prospect leagues, Rob Roy, St. James of Arlington Heights, Bensenville, and Roseale.

The trophy is being displayed at Millay's in Arlington Heights this week. It will be shown at the VFW home in Bensenville the first half of next week, then will appear at Whitton's real estate office in Mt. Prospect the end of next week.

Mt. Prospect AC to be host this Sunday vs. Niles

Mt. Prospect A. C. will meet the Niles V. F. W. softball team at the Mt. Prospect field this Sunday, August 6. The game will be called at 2 p. m. The A. C. team will attempt to keep their new winning streak going against the Vets. Mel Krueger will go after his 14th win of the season. A good game is expected and everyone is urged to come out to the game and cheer the home team.

The A. C. maintained their second place position at Palatine last Thursday when Mel Krueger pitched a no-hit, no-run game against the Prospect Hts. team. The final score was 10-0. The game was called at the end of five innings because of the 10 run rule.

Mel wasn't in trouble through the entire game, although he walked two men in the fourth inning. Marv Anderson had three hits and Bill Wille had four to lead the batters. Roy Goebbert hit a home run in the fifth inning.

Tuesday, August 8, the A. C. will play the Palatine Theater team in a league game. The game will begin at 7:45 p. m. Friday, August 11, Mt. Prospect will again play the Haseman team. The game will also be in at 7:45 p. m. This will be the last league meeting between these two teams for this season.

Park Ridge Stop and Sock took 8½ points from the National Bank to cut down their lead, but they should still have sufficient points, with only one night of play remaining, to determine the team slated for a Paddock tournament berth.

Clarence Horcher, of the Arlington Bowling Lanes team, scored the record low net of the season with a 24, and also helped his team by making 3 individual points as they took 8½ from Schiller Carpet.

Birdies were scored by: Joe Lohr & Wade Olson, 3rd; Lee Flynn, 4th and 9th; Bob Botterman 3th; Willard Schoepke 9th; Gene Hugo 13th; Frank Felker and Len Dunteman, 15th.

THE ROY ROY representative will include Bob Beard, Art Orville, Walter Fill and Virgil Rolfs.

The Mt. Prospect Tuesday night league will send the Mt. Prospect Electric squad into the competition with Don Spordler serving as captain. Others are H. Pathall, A. Skelton, D. Coey and V. Thorson. Four of the five will compete.

First place teams in three golf leagues were determined by press time this week, thus naming the first twelve men who will compete in Paddock Publications interleague tournament at Mt. Prospect country club August 13.

L-Nor Cleaners teams are leading both the St. James and Rob Roy league, though the former has one more week of competition before definitely determining its representative in the match.

The Sunday Night Mixers, a mixed bowling league, will start Sunday, September 10, at 6:30 p. m. at Meier and Helms' alleys. These alleys are located on Northwest Highway between Arlington Heights and Palatine. As the league is expanding from six to ten teams, anyone interested should call C. J. Rapp at Arlington 2348 for reservations.

MT. PROSPECT Wednesday night league as of last week showed Busse-Biermann almost a sure thing with a six point lead. They hold that margin over Hopper's Triangle Lounge.

In the St. James loop L-Nor Cleaners holds a five point margin over both Murphy Insurance and Urick Landscape.

Arlington National Bank holds a seven point lead in the Arlington Heights league. Andrew Decal is second.

This week's games should clarify four team battle

El Rando bounced back this week with two victories and once more took over the lead in Arlington softball. However, they lead Webber Point by only a few percentage points and hold only a one-half game margin over Riviera and Hot Point. Fred Brehm's El Rando organization has dropped only one game while collecting four wins.

Tonight's tussle between Hot Point and Webber could have a big influence on the outcome of the second round. Both teams have lost two games, thus each needs a win here to remain in the running.

Hot Point 12, Riviera 7
Hot Point posted their third straight win as they romped over Riviera Tuesday night, 12-7. Six runs in the final two innings for Hot Point were the margin of victory. Vern Koepen and Charlie Nick both attempted to stop Hot Point, but to no avail. Pat Meehan handled the pitching for Appliance.

week. In a terrific ball game El Rando scored 13 runs to outscore a hard-driving Webber squad. All the scoring was done in the first three innings, the pitchers settling down after those skirmishes. Ray Meyer, normally a catcher, got credit for the win, and Viv Heimsoth was the loser for Webber.

El Rando easily out-manned Flaherty's by the score of 5-1. Jim Geisler hurled a 3-hit and had little trouble in setting down Flaherty. His mates scored 4 runs early in the game and were never headed. Len Bakalar had the thankless job of chucking for the weak-hitting Flaherty team.

Klehm loses, 12-8
In a ragged game which contained 8 errors on the part of both clubs Hot Point whipped Klehm's Peony Farm, 12-8. Hot Point tallied nine runs in the first inning as a result of three hits and four errors, and scored three more in the second. This was enough to win even though Klehm's came back fast with eight scores. Al Kehe and Don Spordler did the hurling.

Bradley and Hodgson win exhibition golf match at Inverness
A big gallery turned out at Inverness Golf Club last Sunday afternoon to watch an exhibition match involving professionals Jackson Bradley and Harry Pezzullo, Harry Adams of the McGregor Sporting Goods Company and Hardie Hodgson a leading Inverness player.

Jackson Bradley, who went to the semi-finals of the PGA tournament this year, was low man of the foursome with a par equaling 72. Pezzullo shot 75, Hodgson 75, and Adams 79. Bradley and Hodgson were teamed together and won the match.

Hodgson's consistently fine play which was on even terms with the visiting pros, brought many hand claps from his Inverness supporters. The exhibition, an annual affair at Inverness, was arranged by Stan Arendt, club professional.

Rob Roy golfers win CDGA junior matches

Don Pauley and Mike McDonald, Rob Roy golfers, won opening matches Tuesday in the Chicago district golf association junior tournament.

Pauley, Rob Roy club champion last year, beat Dean Lind, a tourney champ for two years, 1-up on 20 holes. Lind was favored to cop his third title in a row.

In his second match Gene Dannenberg fell before Pauley, 6 and 4.
Mike McDonald edged Russ Johnson 1-up in the first match, and trounced Bob Faber 4 and 3 in his second. The tourney was slated to continue this week.

Redwings lose in comedy of errors

Last Sunday afternoon the Arlington Redwings travelled to Bervyn for the purpose of playing a ball game against Svitek's Motors. After nine innings the Arlington boys were behind 16-10 in the run department (which is what counts) but were ahead in all other statistics.

The local boys collected 17 hits to Svitek's 10, committed 9 errors not including throwing the ball to the wrong place, at least six times, saw the pitchers Scalata and Traeger issue 8 bases on balls and commit 3 wild pitches, two of which allowed runners to score from third.

There is no way to logically describe the proceedings of the comedy of errors. The Redwings jumped into a 2-0 lead but the score by innings will show how the visitors caught up and went ahead as the generosity of the Redwing's defensive play gave away 8 runs in the last two innings.

THE DEFEAT gives Arlington a 2-1 record in the league. Next Sunday a non-league game will be played at home against the Cicero Reds. Originally the Glenview Navy Air Base was to play but last Saturday Manager Ed Wahl received a letter from the Navy advising that due to world conditions and activity at the Glenview field all athletic activity was being discontinued and that the game would have to be called off.

Electric, Hardware lead divisions in Mt. Prospect golf

Birdies were again plentiful in the Mt. Prospect Twilight League, a total of eighteen being scored on both nights.

The lead on both nights remains the same, and there is very little change in the rest of the standings.

The entire Wednesday night League played the first nine, due to the congestion on the back nine.

Some very good golf was played on Wednesday, particularly by Len Johnson who, besides shooting a 35, birdied both the 3rd and 9th hole. Incidentally, his drive on the 9th hole stopped about 10 feet from the pin.

Other birdies were Mills 13-18, Patheal-18, Dahlgren-9, Chaffee-4-8, Ball-7, R. Meyer-1-9, Hedke-5, Tice-5, Erv. Brown-1, Bob Pitt-4, Isley-1-3, G. Henneberg-9.

All-Star polo game at Arlington Farms Sunday

Eight High Goal Polo Stars of the International Polo League stage, next Sunday afternoon, August 6, an All Star Polo game at Arlington Farms Polo club, Buckley rd., Libertyville. Three Arlington Farms players, Captain Len Bernard, Del Carroll, and Billy Ylvisaker, team with Texan Tom Mather against the top players of other teams in the League have to offer.

Jules "Tiger" Rompf, 6 goal Miami star, will spark the other All Star aggregation. Supporting him are veterans Stanley Taylor, Jack Fink, and newcomer to high goal polo competition, Johnny Casey.

A five-run eighth inning brought disaster to the Bears and the hero of the contest was Northbrook's pitcher Loutsch who drove out a home run with a teammate on base. Barrington's Harry Boyer practically assured himself the league crown with four hits in five trips. This raised his average to .410.

In other league activity, Libertyville's Comets defeated Maywood, 10-3, as Warren Boyes chalked up his eighth triumph, highest in the loop. Maywood returned to the victory column on Saturday blanking the Northbrook Hawks, 4-0.

FIRST-PLACE Oak Park scored a pair of triumphs, behind the pitching of southpaw Art Piotter, defeating Des Plaines, 7-4, and Libertyville, 6-1. The latter game was protested because of Oak Park's having illegal softballs during the latter part of the contest. The protest was the fifth in the league, strangely all against the Oak Park team, with Barrington as the only club that has failed to lodge a protest.

The league playoffs will commence on Friday, August 11. Representatives of the first four place clubs will meet in Barrington Sunday to map plans. First and third place clubs clash and second and fourth vie with the two winners meeting in the finals. Each series is best two out of three.

Canned food use climbs 10-fold in half century

The consumption of canned foods has increased 10-fold since the beginning of the twentieth century — from approximately two billion cans in 1900 to about 20 billion last year, L. W. Graaskamp, vice president in charge of sales for American Can Company, reported in a mid-century review of can manufacturing and canning.

The use of metal containers for non-food products, such as paint, beer, motor oil, and tobacco has grown at an even faster rate—to an annual consumption of close to 10 billion in 1949, he continued. Based on a national use of about 30 billion, the average American family last year opened around 750 cans of food and non-food products, or about 200 per person, Graaskamp said.

Small landlords to get rent increase if none given since June '47

Thousands of small landlords in Cook County who have not had a rent increase since June 30, 1947 are assured an immediate fifteen percent increase to compensate for higher costs of operating and maintaining their property, announced Norman B. Shogren, Chicago Area Rent Director, today.

"A small landlord, according to rent office definition for the purpose of this petition," explained Shogren, "is one who owns structures containing no more than four rental housing units. All such small landlords need to, to secure an increase on units where the legal rent is still what it was on June 30, 1947, is sign a simple one-page petition form, giving his name and address, the tenant's name and address, the June 30, 1947 legal maximum rent on the accommodation, and the new rent he now wishes to charge. This new rent, however, may not be in excess of fifteen per cent above the June 30, 1947 legal rent. In signing this petition, the landlord certifies that he has maintained the essential services and equipment required under the rent regulations and that he will continue to do so."

There will be no long drawn-out waiting period for approval of these petitions.

"Within ten days after the receipt of a petition," Shogren assured, "the Chicago area rent office will approve the requested rent if it complies with the specified conditions, and will mail copies of approval to both landlord and tenant. The new increased rental becomes effective, under the federal rent law, on the approval date stamped on the petition."

Any tenant has the right to file an objection to the rent increase within fifteen days after receiving notification of the new rent if he can submit evidence to show that the increase was unwarranted under the regulation.

Joe's Trading Post to close for remodeling

Joe's Trading Post, Wood Dale rd., 1 1/4 miles north of Wood Dale railroad station, will be closed for three week ends, beginning August 12.

Sales this week end will be below cost in order to reduce stock before moving into the Post's remodeled quarters at the same location. It will reopen the week end of September 2. (A6)

National sales up

The sales of National Tea Co., for the four weeks ending July 15, 1950 amounted to $24,246,268.41 as compared with $20,260,790.05 for the corresponding period of 1949, an increase of 19.67%.

Sales for the year to date amounted to $161,216,788.32 as compared with $145,474,505.48 in 1949, an increase of 10.82%.

People Love It...

It's Our New Operating Policy We're Talking About.
In Case You Haven't Heard We'll Go Over It Again...

Our New Show Times

Week days the box office opens at 6:30 and the show starts at 7 p. m., usually with the short subjects. Folks have been enthusiastic about it. Ma says the family doesn't have to hurry through supper to make the first show, and she usually has time to do the dishes, instead of stacking them in the sink. Pa even has time to look over the evening paper, and the kids and get in a few phone calls.

Our New Policy

Deluxe single feature programs Sunday through Friday with program changes on Sunday and Wednesday plus usually a double feature program on Saturday. On our single feature programs we are offering a perfectly balanced 2 hour show with shows starting at 7 and 9 p. m.

The shorter show has been a big hit! Folks can see the best features, have time to get a good night's sleep and be wide awake when they make the 8:02 in the morning. (Pa couldn't sit still through those long doubles, anyhow!)

Presenting the Younger Generation

Vacationer

Vacations certainly agree with this young lad! He is Terry Schroeder, 442 Easy st., Palatine and has been vacationing with his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Koepf of Oshkosh, Wis., for several weeks.

Terry, who has brown hair and blue eyes will celebrate his fifth birthday on August 2.

"He's an animated, very vivacious little fellow," said Mrs. Schroeder, "and has many interests." His electric train, bicycle and coaster wagon rate his favorites. "Terry is interested in mechanics, too," continued his mother, "and likes to help his Dad fix things."

This youngster's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Otto A. Schroeder, 38 Robertson ave., Palatine.

Vivacious

Blonde and blue-eyed little Linda Baldocchi, is the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Baldocchi, 353 W. Glade rd., Palatine. Linda is a happy youngster, full of "vim and vigor," said her mother.

She's a real girl, loving her dolls and buggies most, but her fire truck push-toy is also a favorite.

Linda and her parents are looking forward to the latter part of August when they plan to take a vacation. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baldocchi, paternal grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wesley, maternal grandparents, all of Des Plaines.

"Just One"

Smiling little Roger Kendall ranks among the one year olds as of July 24. His birthday was celebrated by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kendall, 733 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, his grandparents, and aunts and uncles at a party, July 23.

"Roger seemed to understand what it was all about, especially when the birthday cake was served and he made a plunge for it," laughed Mrs. Kendall.

This little fellow's most recent accomplishment is learning to walk. "He's been walking for three weeks now and is getting to be a lot of fun," said this young mother.

Trucks and cars are favorites of Roger—just a real boy! Mr. and Mrs. Emil Juhnke of Elk Grove are his maternal grandparents.

"Early Riser"

This handsome young lad is Jimmy Loudon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Loudon, 746 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights. He has light blond hair, blue eyes, is six and one-half years old and will enter school this fall.

"Jimmy is a regular boy—loves to play cowboys and run his trains," explained Mrs. Loudon. One unusual habit of Jimmy's is his early rising, we were told.

He invariably rises at 6:30 a. m. much to the dismay of his parents who like a few more winks. The Loudons moved to their new home from Chicago about four months ago.

Lessons In . . . English

by W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused
Try to avoid using good as an adjective for everything pleasing, such as, a good climate, good soil, good friends, good disposition. Instead, say healthful climate, fertile soil, faithful friend, cheerful disposition.

Do not say, "I must first be invited before I can attend." Omit first.

Do not say, "There was rain enough that the ground was saturated." Say, "There was enough rain to saturate the ground."

Do not say, "Why are you so mean today. The primary meaning of mean is common or humble. Say, "Why are you so disagreeable ill-tempered, unaccommodating, disobligng?"

Do not say, "Had I have known that, I wouldn't have gone." Say, "Had I known that, I shouldn't have gone."

Do not say, "The child is not permitted to play only on Saturdays." Not and only form a double negative. Say, "The child is permitted to play only on Saturdays."

Words Often Mispronounced

Costume. Pronounce the u as in use, not kos-toom.
Effete (exhausted of fertility). Pronounce e-fet, first e as in bet, second e as in feet, accent second syllable.

Aquarium. Pronounce a-kwar-i-um, first a as in ask unstressed, second a as in care, accent second syllable.

Carton and Cartoon. Accent carton on the first syllable, and cartoon on the second syllable.

Toward. Pronounce as one syllable, tor-d, and not too-ward.

Envelope and envelop. Pronounce envelope (a wrapper) with accent on first syllable. Pronounce envelop (to put a covering about) with accent on second syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Stationary (fixed), ary; stationery (writing material), ery. Plainness: observe the two n's. Bookkeeping: two o's, two k's, two e's. Personal, one n and a; personnel, two n's and el. Knoll, though pronounced nol, o as in roll. Miniature, observe the ia.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Pique (verb): to offend by slighting. (Pronounce peek). "He was piqued by the attitude of the other club members."

Repository: a place where anything is stored for safekeeping. "Books are faithful repositories of knowledge."

With Uncle Sam

At O'Hare

Captain Mynderse A. Taylor, South Euclid rd., 1st Lieut. Raymond C. Walton of 537 S. Mitchell ave., S/Sgt Cecil D. Currier of 15 W. Davis st., and S/St. Harold L. Frank of Palatine rd., are among the Arlington Heights residents attending the combat maneuvers of the 437th Troop Carrier Wing, Air Force Reserve, at O'Hare International Airport this week.

The 437th Troop Carrier Wing, made up of some 1500 men and women from the Chicago and area, has been carrying on an extensive ground and flight training program at O'Hare Field, with the objective of having the Wing fully capable of carrying its wartime mission without delay, should the Reserve be mobilized.

The wartime mission of the 437th briefly stated, is the sustained operation of an air base anywhere in the world, together with the operation of a combat airlift as directed by higher headquarters. The 437th includes an Air Base Group, charged with operating and maintaining the buildings, runways, hangars and other installations of an air field; a Maintenance and Supply Group, charged with keeping the aircraft supplied and in good repair; a Medical Group, which runs a Base Hospital; and a Tactical Group, which flies the airplanes.

The 437th Wing, now recruited almost up to 100% strength, is still interviewing applicants for about 100 job vacancies.

Captain Taylor, 30, is a navigator and statistical control officer with the 83rd Troop Carrier Squadron. He served on anti-submarine patrol during World War II. Lieut. Walton is an administrative officer and bombardier with the 437th Communications Squadron. During World War II, he was a bombardier with the 446th Bomb Group in England. Sergeant Currier is a crew chief in charge of plane maintenance on the big C-46 transport planes of the 437th. During World War II, he served as a crew chief with the Air Rescue Service in Europe and China. Sergeant Frank is a radio mechanic with the 437th Communications Squadron. He also served with the 446th Bomb Group in England during World War II.

At Culver

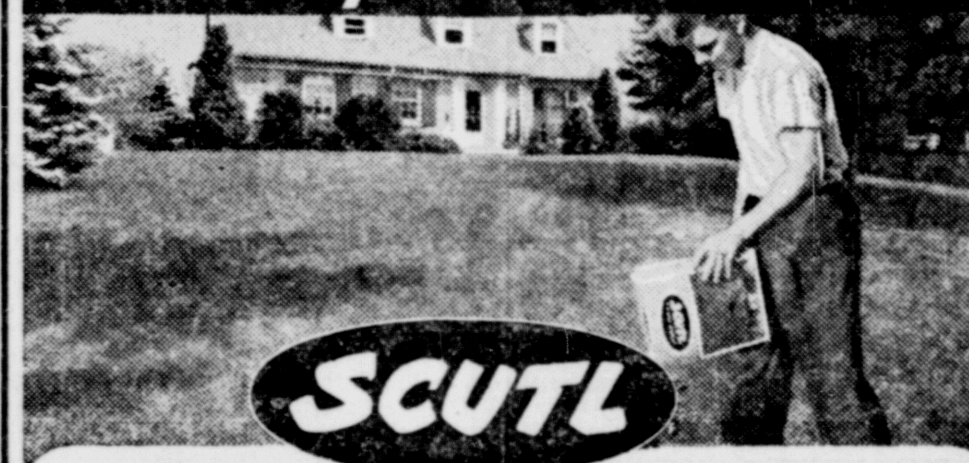

Richard H. Winterbauer of Arlington Heights, has been awarded the Tuxis Bronze medal by the Culver Summer Schools where he is spending this summer in the Naval School with boys from 36 states and eight foreign countries.

The bronze Tuxis medal is awarded to midshipmen after they have demonstrated proficiency in five different phases of the Culver camp program. These accomplishments must be in individual and competitive athletics, military, seamanship, academics, and social.

Winterbauer is now eligible to begin work on his silver Tuxis award which requires more advanced accomplishments.

He is the son of Henry T. Winterbauer, 500 Banbury rd., Arlington Heights.

Way Back When

Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money.

O.K. first subdivision to Arlington; new law ends 'vest pocket' elections

The Wheeling Board of Auditors 80 years ago scrutinized all bills closely and it was not unusual for the auditors to refuse to pay items that they thought were either illegal or not authorized by the township budget. One such incident was Oct. 31, 1862 when the auditors left unpaid $37.50 of expenses incurred by the highway commissioners, saying it was expended without authority.

The only mention of a toll road occurs in minutes of June 9, 1889 when an A. J. Snell (evidently an operator of a toll road) released to the township of Wheeling all "right, total and interest, vested in me under a charter from the State of Illinois that portion of road lying north and west of the 20th mile post situated in said town and the county line between the counties of Cook and Lake counties."

"Said 20 mile post when surveyed, was placed in front of and near the residence of Jacob Honsinger, now owned by John Bohm, in the village of Wheeling. It is expressly agreed that this release has no bearing on any road east or south of the 20 mile post, when same is graveled and toll collected on same."

George Perolat, Wheeling's oldest resident, does not know the exact location of the 20 mile post, but he says that the first actual toll gate between Wheeling and Chicago was at an intersection of River road and Milwaukee ave. It is presumed that the road between that point and Wheeling was maintained by the toll gate operator.

A charge of 10c was made for a one-horse vehicle and 15c for a two horse wagon. The road was supposed to be properly graveled and kept in repair by A. J. Snell who held the charter from the state. He was reputed to be a millionaire and was later murdered.

Mr. Perolat surmises that Mr. Snell released to highway commissioners all title and rights to Milwaukee avenue north of the Behm home. He was only a young man at the time the toll roads were in operation. The maintenance of the roads were taken over by individual townships as their road funds permitted the additional expense and few people living today can remember the toll gates.

SMALL POX broke out in the Madison House (village of Arlington Heights) in Feb. 1881 and was reported to the town board by Dr. J. E. Best. The hotel was closed and all children attending school were ordered vaccinated.

The Madison House, then operated by Rudolph Lauterbach, was allowed to reopen a week later.

Employees of the Sigwalt Sewing Machine Co. (Arlington Seating Co.) wanted a sidewalk between the village and the factory. The town electors voted on April 4, 1882 to use the toll tax paid by employees of that company for years 1882 and 1883 to cover the cost of said sidewalk. Upon consulting the county attorney the commissioners were told proposed sidewalk building would be illegal.

AUTHORIZATION was given by the highway commissioners for the opening of a road (old Elmhurst road) from present Central road to Foundry road. The land through which this road passed was owned by Whipple, Henry Katz, Henry Russell, Carl Behlendorf and Fred Sieberg. Russell received $250; H. W. Russell and Fred Sieberg $60 each.

The first subdivision to original Arlington Heights was approved by the highway commissioners in 1883. It was known as the Atkins addition. The north boundary was Euclid ave.; the south Hobart ave. (now North-West Highway) west, Elm st.; east 313 feet east of Chestnut.

With few exceptions county roads were laid out three rods wide in place of the present four rods. One such road then known as Kosmin road, extending from Dundee road north of County Line, east of Des Plaines river and village of Wheeling, is no longer in existence.

During these years town meetings and elections were held at both Arlington and Wheeling, the polls opening at 8:00 a. m., and closing at 7 p. m. with an intermission at two o'clock to conduct the affairs of the township. Three highway overseers were elected at each place, there being six for the township.

Th ballot box and poll books of the two election precincts were opened the following day in Arlington Heights in the presence of the two men who acted as moderators and the two who acted as clerks at the two town meetings.

FIRST TOWN election conducted under the Australian ballot system occurred April 5, 1892, when the polls opened at 7:00 a. m. and continued open until 5 p. m. The election officials comprised three judges and two clerks in place of one judge and one clerk under the old system. The first judges in precinct 1 (Arlington Heights) were F. W. Muller, Jos. Horcher and Henry Bolte; clerks, T. P. Kellogg and A. T. Kates. The town meeting was held in Arlington at two p. m. as at present.

The votes of the two precincts were counted after the polls closed and not the following day, as formerly.

This election was the first time that ballots were printed at public expense. Previously each candidate furnished his own or "tied-up" with candidates for other offices to have a complete ticket on one ballot. Welfin's hall had been used in Wheeling village for town elections until 1896 when they were moved to the Wheeling village hall.

J. SCHWINGEL was assessor for many years. During the 1890's he presented his assessment list to the town officials who held a public meeting when objections could be filed by persons assessed. No mention appears in the minutes of anybody ever objecting.

Until 1896 judges and clerks were paid $1.50 a day for their services. When the state law boosted the fee from $1.50 to $3.00, the board of auditors in August of that year allowed them only the old fee with the understanding that if they were entitled to more money, it would be paid at next meeting.

Authorized boundaries for the two election precincts in the township of Wheeling were settled by the county board Dec. 9, 1901.

Two petitions for township offices were filed Feb. 16 and 20, 1897. The names of some of the candidates appeared on each petition and a special meeting of the board of auditors was held to unravel the snarl. The board compromised by placing some on one ticket and others on the second one.

MINUTES OF the highway commissioners are not included with minutes of township affairs after 1887, but March 7, 1899 a petition signed by 18 voters asked that a bridge be built by the Wheeling Highway Commissioners over Des Plaines river at the present Central road.

During these years the precinct 1 meetings were held in such Arlington Heights halls as Siemers, Schraders, and Knigge's halls.

An entire page in the records gives a detailed map of Central road, east from River road, with dedication of the Catholic Bishop of Chicago and acceptance of the road by the highway commissioners of Wheeling, Northfield and Maine.

The Way-Back-When editor has covered in three installments the first fifty years of township government in Wheeling township and will turn to another township next week.

He wishes to acknowledge the courtesy of Dorothy Hauff, town clerk who made the records available.

TALES of the STREET

-T. C. HART

● SECOND HALF

The second half of the soft ball season is on and from the looks of things it's going to be a more interesting season than the first half.

In the first half, Mt. Prospect ran away with the honors and in this half it looks as if Hillside Trunkers were going to grab the glory, but some of the weak teams have bolstered their pitching staffs and those underdogs are playing some good ball right now, and with a few breaks in the luck going their way anything can happen.

The league is a lot more interesting than it was last year and the fans are seeing some fine ball, also some weird ball, but then that's all in the game. The rosters have got on so well that many fans are getting real thrills and those are the games they pick to go to. Of course there is a group of hardened regulars that take in all the games, prepared to see anything and everywhere in a while they are treated to a real thriller where one wasn't looked for. Anyway folks are having a lot of fun at the park this year, fans and players alike, and they are getting to be like one big family where everyone knows everyone else.

● TOURNAMENT

Palatine's first invitational soft ball tournament will be held the evenings of August 16-18 and 20 and 21. The tournament should furnish the fans with a lot of high class soft ball.

Teams competing will be Hasemans, Riviera and Mt. Prospect from the local league as well as Park Ridge, Evanston and Glenview from the North Shore league. A team of Barrington hot shots is also expected to be in the tournament.

This set-to of a group of the best teams north and northwest of Chicago is bound to furnish a lot of real baseball and the stands should be crowded for those tournament games.

● COLLECTIONS

The park management just wants to remind the fans that balls, umpires and lights cost money and that those collections taken up each game night go to defray those expenses.

Some of those collections haven't been so hot, some people seem to feel that a whole evening's entertainment is only worth a dime and some even take a walk when the collector is making his rounds and then come back later. If every adult at the games would toss in a quarter everything would be lovely.

At many parks they ask for a .50 cent donation, here if folks will contribute a quarter for the evening's fun everything will be lovely. And don't forget, there's a lot of good baseball coming up during the second half of the season and that tournament is going to be a corker. Come early—you won't have to bring your lunch as the park canteen has plenty to eat, drink and smoke, on tap at all times, just come out and have fun with the boys.

● FLOWERS AND GARDEN SHOW

One of the finest events of the summer season will be the gorgeous flower and garden show to be staged September 9 and 10 at the high school gymnasium. This great show which was started a few years ago by the Palatine Park Garden club and which in a few years time has grown to be one of the finest shows of its kind in the state will this year be staged by the combined garden clubs of Palatine Park, Inverness and South Plum Grove.

With all of those good workers joined in putting on one grand show the exhibition this year really should be a corker. With plenty of rain early in the season to start things off some fine specimens of floral and garden products are looked for and this year's show promises to be a fine exhibition of the products of the gardens of this area.

An innovation this year is the holding of the show for two days instead of one, a feature which should greatly increase the attendance and the interest in the show. Mark those dates on your "must" calendar, September 9 and 10. That show is something which you won't want to miss.

● HARVEST TIME

Harvest time has started and the combines and reapers are busy in the wheat fields and the oat crop is maturing right behind the wheat so from now on the farmers will be busy gathering in the golden grain and reports of yields will be coming in.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that the wheat crop is going to be very good with oats running below normal because of the cold wet spring and the delay in getting the crop planted. With a fine hay crop in and the small grain being harvested as fast as the machines can work, the busy season on the farms is at full blast and behind all of the activity and promise of a lot more work later on and a bountiful corn crop, which is looking good as well, is that thrifty looking corn crop, which despite no early season warm weather is certainly looking fine with a dark green color that is beautiful to see as the big fields sway in the summer breeze under the glinting rays of a setting sun.

● BEANS

We at last beat the rabbits on the bean question and have had plenty of string beans. The only way we did it was to plant so many beans that the blame rabbits just couldn't eat them all, although they made a brave attempt and surely moved off many rows. But the job of getting them all must have seemed just too big for them, and they finally gave up in disgust and went out on the lawn and started to nibble the clover.

It's a funny thing the tastes that those rabbits have in different gardens. We know some folks who can't raise any lettuce because of the rabbits, and others who can't raise any peas because of them.

One neighbor lost about 100 tomato plants one year because the rabbits cut them off. He was out in his garden every morning cussing the rabbits and replanting where his plants had been cut down.

In our garden they don't bother the lettuce or the peas, they have cut off some tomato plants and chewed off some beet roots in certain seasons, but the crop that they really lay for with us is the beans and they seem to be particularly strong for the wax bean plants, preferring them to the green beans.

From the way the rabbits have multiplied this summer, there should be a lot of them this winter for the youthful hunters and trappers to look for, and our friend Hank Cordes ought to have a big season with that new fangled trap of his.

● ALL OVER

With the running of the big Arlington handicap last Saturday, the great Arlington Park race meeting came to a brilliant close.

Off to a poor start because of bad weather, the meeting really started to boom with the July 4th holiday week end. From then to the finish it was going in high gear.

The racing scene has now moved on to Washington Park where another great meeting will be held lasting through Labor Day and the big Arlington Park plant will now be idle for another year. The huge stands are deserted where so many thousands of racing fans enjoyed many a beautiful afternoon, amid ideal surroundings and with many a racing thrill to keep them interested.

The big flock of white ducks will probably be transferred to the lagoons at Washington Park where their formations and antics will amuse other thousands of visitors.

The thousands of beautiful petunias which have made the infield, the boxes along the club house and the paddock a thing of beauty and color for the last six weeks will be left to continue their blooming and their brilliance.

With the appreciative crowds gone and the big stands deserted and silent, those perky petunias are left alone to toss their brilliant colors to the desert air, to be replaced next year by another glorious collection of their fellows who will again bring beauty and color to a beautiful setting and give pleasure and enjoyment to other thousands of race fans who will welcome the great Arlington Park meeting of 1951.

● SIAMESE DAHLIA

Talk about Siamese twins, you should have seen the Siamese Dahlia raised by Jim Lowther of Palatine.

Not only was it a double bloom, but a double stem as well. Two perfect flowers, back to back on twin stems had grown as one the whole length of the stem. It wasn't like some freak blooms you see on plants occasionally.

It was a perfect twin joined at the way stem and flower both and both flowers perfectly formed.

If Jim could propagate those plants to produce that kind of a growth, he would become famous as the introducer of the Siamese Dahlia.

● WARM WEATHER
Nick Mersch was telling us the other day that a little flower magazine that he gets has the prediction that we are going to be in for a couple of weeks of real hot weather, the first couple of weeks in August.

Judging from the way the weather warmed up in the closing days of July that prediction looks as if it might be the real thing.

HOBBIES Yours and Mine

BY BETTY AINSLIE

In case you pass the Henry Precht farm out on Landmeier rd. in Arlington Heights, and suddenly feel your eyes are playing tricks on you, and wonder if you're seeing glorified chickens or a special brand of turkeys strutting about the front lawn—well they're peacocks, and Mr. Precht is raising these birds as a hobby.

"I've always kinda liked these birds," laughed Mr. Precht good naturedly. "My father had a pair a long time ago and I always thought I'd like to raise some peacocks too."

WE STOOD watching these pretty birds strut around their clean pen and I learned a bit about peacocks that I never knew before. For instance peacocks live to be 40 years old or more and they aren't fully mature until six years old.

These proud birds lay just once a season from 12 to 15 eggs, and unlike chickens they will have nothing to do with the eggs once they are touched by a human.

Mr. Precht has some of the eggs in an incubator and has hopes he'll have a few baby peacocks to take care of.

One lovely peacock is about 11 years old and his coloring is really startling. His bright blue neck and huge green fan are really beautiful—and he's definitely the king of the barnyard.

"They're regular alarm clocks with their crowing," said Mr. Precht. "And they're weather prophets too, as they make a terrible fuss when the weather is about to change."

IT SEEMS peacocks spread their fans and do their strutting early in the morning or early evening. The large tail with fully spread is supported underneath by a smaller set of tail feathers.

They're inquisitive — actually nosy and far more friendly than most birds. They can easily be trained into pets and seem to thrive in this climate.

Mr. Precht looked for a long time to find peacocks and got the eight he now has from a man in Manitowish, Wis.

WHAT DOES he plan to do with these birds? Well to make his hobby profitable Mr. Precht hopes to be able to sell his birds. It seems gentlemen farmers on large country estates like the addition of peacocks to add interest and beauty to their gardens and there is really quite a market for the birds.

While we were talking several of the peacocks ambled around us and Mr. Precht declared they could fly fairly high and often perched on the barn roof.

So here's a man with a hobby that is truly unusual and he's "proud as a peacock" over his splendid birds.

Brides-to-be

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

It is a habit we all have, to remember the injuries we receive from others, the unkind words, or the words which should have been spoken, but never have.

We have looked for a word of praise, and it was not here. We searched for sympathy, but everyone else was too busy to listen, or too engrossed with their own misfortunes. We have expected a tender caress, a word of love—and it has not come. We have expected understanding, and have encountered only anger or ridicule. And we have remembered. Remembered with bitterness, with the determination to seek revenge. We have brooded or become angry.

Somewhat, living alone in our motivated physical machine, we have developed a false pride in ourselves. We think we are something special, and so deserving of a better than even break. When we get a rough deal, it bothers us. Suppose that instead of considering ourselves so deserving of such unusual treatment, we realize that we are just one of many. Suppose that when praise does not come, we just forget and go on. Suppose that when we are not understood, and the world makes no effort to understand us, we strive to understand why. We can observe that Henry doesn't look well, and overlook his sarcasm, or forgive Martha for being so absorbed in her shopping that she doesn't notice us, rather than feel bitter and hurt over their actions.

The whole world is different when we learn to be humble and tolerant of others. To accept people as they are—some affectionate and kind, others cold and hard, still others habitual grouches—accept them as they are and refuse to be hurt by their personal peculiarities. Like people in spite of what they say or do, forgive, forget, ignore, but don't let them get us down.

We all expect too much of people. We see a family where but those boys are a fine lot of fellows, square and impartial. They call them as they see them and they have been doing an all around fine job at those games.

Weekly recipe

Keeping the pantry well stocked with goodies means you'll usually be prepared for impromptu picnics or unexpected guests. Banana Nut Bread will keep well if it's properly stored and it'll be a good summer standby.

FARM RODENTS

There are a lot of rodents in the old barn on Anderson's farm on route 83, half a mile south of Dundee road.

Tuesday morning, July 21, twelve chickens were found scattered dead all over the barn yard. 14 were missing, with only six chickens of a flock of 32 remaining alive. Deadly rat poison has been laid around the barn.

Anyone with a beautiful dog running loose will have to take the consequences. When a man is working hard to make a living he must take steps to protect his business.

THANK YOU

The Post and Ladies Auxiliary extend its most kindest regards to all the persons and organizations in this city and out of town groups who gave their all-out efforts in behalf of our 4th annual Arlington Heights Festival.

The support given us was overwhelming and made our show the great success it was.

Again we wish to offer our many thanks to each and every one who served so loyally and well in the true spirit of our "City of Good Neighbors."

INDEPENDENCE

The Independence bond drive was a success! And you, your medium of communication had much to do with helping Illinois "go over the top," reaching 117.4% of the State's $56,048,000 quota. The final report shows "E" Savings Bonds sales in Illinois in the Drive were $65,780,000.

Volunteer help in all its phases is the framework upon which the success or failure of the Savings Bonds effort rests. Its effectiveness has been shown again in the recent drive.

We want you to know we are grateful for your cooperation.

Chevy Chase presents 'Here Comes Mr. Jordan'

Tom Drake, the young stage and screen actor who with Haila Stoddard was one of last season's hits in Her Cardboard Lover, will be seen on the stage of the Chevy Chase Summer theatre until Sunday night in Here Comes Mr. Jordan.

The play was a hit on the screen with Robert Montgomery as the saxophone-playing prize fighter, as well as on the stage under its original title, Heaven Can Wait.

Next week, Producer Marshall Migatz brings Burgess Meredith to the Chevy Chase stage in Harvey. The play opens Tuesday and runs thru Sunday.

Burgess Meredith also began his career in summer theaters. His last Chicago performances were in Maxwell Anderson's "The Star Wagon" and "Winter-set," but he will be best remembered by suburban audiences for his appearances with the North Shore Drama festival in Glenview 15 years ago.

"Harvey" is the very funny play about Elwood P. Dowd and his friend, Harvey, the 6 foot 1 1/2 inch invisible rabbit.

Chevy Chase is the air-conditioned summer theater on Milwaukee avenue, a mile north of Wheeling. Seats for the Tuesday through Sunday evening performances are $3, $2.40 and $1.50, while all tickets for the 3 p. m. Wednesday matinee are $1.50. Tickets are available by mail, although reservations can be made by calling Wheeling 280.

Boy may lose eye because of prank

A 10 year old Des Plaines boy may lose the sight of an eye because of the "prank" of two nine year old youngsters.

Paul Bursiek, Jr., of 929 Walter ave. is under the care of a physician for treatment of wounds to his left eye. The lad was shot by BBs believed to have been fired from one of two sling shots wielded by the other lads at about six p. m. last Thursday.

Paul was standing in front of 905 Walter ave. The other two boys, standing across the street, are believed to have fired BBs at the same time.

MERMAID IN STRIPES

Bits o' business

Still the "most insurance-conscious people in the world," Americans carry almost twice as much life protection as they did 10 years ago. This year's sales may top $27,000,000,000, 15 percent above 1949's peak. . . Bell Telephone system which at the end of the war had a waiting list of 2,100,000, still has 790,000 unfilled orders on its books — this despite the fact that the company has added 12,500,000 new phones since 1945. Three-quarters of all Bell phones are now dial-operated. . . Frozen fruit and juice output continues to spurt to new heights. Total 1950 production, says the Agriculture department, will surpass 1946's record 525,000,000-pound mark. The biggest increases: probably frozen citrus juice concentrates.

Chicago symphony to stage concert at Maine high

Chicago Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Rafael Kubelik, will present a concert at Maine Township High School this winter through the courtesy of the Chicago Title and Trust Company and the Maine High School Board.

During the winter months the Chicago Title and Trust Company is sponsor of a series of programs by this world famous orchestra over Radio Station

WCFL. Each season some of these programs are scheduled from high schools in the Chicago area.

These programs have been so well received by suburban communities that the Chicago Title and Trust Company officials decided to stage more of them this winter. Maine High School was selected as one of the locations for a concert. Tickets for this affair will be free of charge and distribution of these tickets will be handled by the school board. Details as to this distribution will be announced later.

International news brings war books again to fore

With the newspapers full of the Korean situation and impending Russian aggression, it is enlightening to go back to the early phases of World War II. Then many of our problems paralleled those of today—not enough men, poor communications and battlefields a great distance away.

W. L. White tells the tragic story of the Philippine campaign from the viewpoint of a single squadron in They Were Expendable. He was in the officers' quarters at Newport just after four young officers, all that remained of the Motor Torpedo Boat Squadron 3, returned. Each tells of the campaign as he experienced it, interrupting and clarifying, until the reader feels that he too is in the room, overhearing the shocking story of brave men in an impossible situation.

The title itself is a compelling one. Mr. White explains in the words of one of the officers its meaning. "Suppose you're a sergeant machine-gunner, and your army is retreating and the enemy advancing. The captain takes you to a machine gun covering the road. 'You're to stay here and hold this position,' he tells you. 'For how long?' you ask. 'Never mind,' he answers. 'Just hold it.' Then you know you're expendable. . . . They expect you to stay there and spray that road with steel until you're killed or captured, holding up the enemy for a few minutes or even a precious quarter of an hour."

Its 200 pages are tersely written and unpadding. It tells no so much a gory story as one of expended men with inadequate equipment. In one short evening you can read the report from these men of the terrible odds they fought against without hope of reinforcements and with meager supplies.

To revive horse pulling contest at Wisconsin state fair

After an absence of eight years, the Wisconsin State Fair at Milwaukee, August 19-27, will again hold the ever-popular horse pulling contest on Tuesday morning, August 22, at 10 a. m. in front of the grandstand, announces Jack Reynolds, manager. Entries from every section of Wisconsin and the middle west may take part as the contest is open to all.

Two divisions will make up the event: teams weighing more than 3,000 pounds and teams weighing less than 3,000 pounds. Prizes aggregating $720 will be awarded, with $75 going to the winner in each division. Ten prizes will be paid in each section. Entries should be made directly to Horse Pulling Contest, Wisconsin State Fair, Milwaukee 14, Wisconsin.

Marketing Turkeys
Even the giblets are included when you buy a half turkey—half a heart, half a gizzard, etc. Shorter time is required for cooking per pound of bird, too. This innovation in marketing turkeys is meeting high favor with small families.

Uncle Sam Says

There are tonics for each season of the year, but there is only one which offers a wonderful cure for headaches, worry, or insomnia. Take a good look at the label on the bottle. That is a U. S. Savings Bond, guaranteed to be safe and to pay you back $4 for every $3 you invest, after ten years. And the more of this beneficial medicine you take, the healthier will be your income—your future financial standing. So, invest regularly every pay day—summer, fall, winter and spring—in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Defrosting

Defrosting whenever it is necessary will help a refrigerator operate most effectively. The time to defrost is when the frost is 1/4 inch thick, or about as deep as a lead pencil.

? Questions On GI Bill ?

Following my discharge from the Army in 1946 I cut the amount of my national Service Life Insurance from $10,000 to $5,000. Now I would like to restore it back to the original $10,000. Can I do this?

Answer: You can, but if your policy has been allowed to lapse for more than three months you will be required to take a physical examination at the VA before the original policy amount can be reinstated.

Question: My husband served in the regular Army and was honorably discharged before 1940. His death, prior to Pearl Harbor was not due to service. I have not remarried but have a 10 year old son. Am I entitled to any pension for myself or allowance for my son?

Answer: No. The law provides no pension or allowance for the survivors of a peacetime soldier whose death was not due to service-connected disability.

Question: Does the widow of a World War I veteran, who was his wife during the war period receive a higher pension than she would if she had married him after the termination of the War.

Answer: No. $42.00 is the maximum pension allowed to a widow of a World War I veteran, regardless of whether she was his wife during the war period. Except in the case of a veteran whose death was due to a service-connected disability, in which case the widow's pension is $75.00. In either case, pension ceases upon remarriage of the widow.

AUTHORITY

When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked bear rule, the people mourn.

Proverbs 29:2

To overcome all wrong, it must become unreal to us; and it is good to know that wrong has no divine authority; therefore man is its master.

—Mary Baker Eddy

The universal and absolute law is that natural justice which cannot be written down, but which appeals to the hearts of all.

—Victor Cousin

Five things are requisite to a good officer — ability, clean hands, dispatch, patience, and impartiality.

Hog price rise may not last long says expert

These climbing hog prices probably won't last, you'll be taking less risk if you sell your animals as they reach market weight instead of waiting for a higher market.

That's the opinion given today by W. J. Wills, livestock marketing specialist in the Illinois College of Agriculture. He said that an increased supply of hogs and consumer resistance to high-priced pork cuts would probably allow little if any seasonal price rise from now to early September.

Wills bases his forecast on a study of supply and demand for hogs.

THE SPECIALIST says wholesale meat prices, (which work back to retail prices of meat cuts) are good indicators of the strength of the demand. With 8 to 12 pound wholesale loins selling at $61 per hundred, on July 6, Wills expects consumer resistance to high-priced pork chops and other cuts to put an upper limit on live hog prices soon.

On the supply side, Wills believes heavy hog runs will start earlier this year than last. He also expects butcher hog marketing in the next two months to be 7 per cent larger than a year ago. Sow marketing may be about 8 per cent larger.

Wills thinks it doubtful that you'll gain by holding your hogs off the market. "As they reach market weight, sell them," he says. "But watch the markets closely to avoid market gluts."

Milk payments

Cook-DuPage County dairy farmers received $17,292.08 for milk delivered to Bowman Dairy Company receiving stations during the month of June. Monthly figures are sent in this newspaper as soon as they are compiled at Bowman's general office.

Care of Felt

To remove dust and brighten felt, first brush it with a stiff brush or very fine sandpaper, and then sponge with felt cleaning fluid. Steaming makes felt easy to mold to the size and shape desired. To press, cover the felt with a press cloth and use a hot iron.

Unit Costs Vary

Unit production costs vary with each dairyman. Thus in 1949 it cost dairyman 1 $5.70 to produce 100 pounds of milk, or more than twice the unit cost of dairyman 46.

Same Variations for Other Products

Unit production costs for other farm products such as corn and wheat, beef and pork, vary in the same way as do those for milk.

Competition Encourages Efficient Producers

If production of a farm commodity is more than is being consumed:

(a) Under competition, prices are reduced and high-cost producers such as dairyman 1 to 5 tend to turn to more profitable enterprises.

Use of Marketing Quotas Encourages Inefficiency

(b) Under government control, prices may be maintained at a high level, marketing quotas may be used, and production of all producers may be reduced on a percentage basis.

This method encourages inefficient producers to continue production and tends to lower the efficiency of all producers.

LAW on the FARM

Truckers

Professional truckers annually haul millions of dollars worth of farm livestock and other farm products. Their responsibility to the farmer is therefore an important consideration.

Eleven years ago the Illinois Legislature found as a matter of policy that "... the rapid increase of truck traffic and the fact that ... many trucks designed or used for the transportation of property, are not effectively regulated ... necessitated more stringent regulation. Accordingly, the Illinois Truck Act was adopted.

This law does several things to increase the responsibility of truckers to farmers and to their other patrons. It requires that a certificate, permit or registration number be procured from the State Department of Public Works and Buildings; that certificates of convenience and necessity be procured by truckers operating for hire; that surety bonds or insurance certificates be filed showing that personal and property damage to others is covered; and that trucks bear the owner's name and address. The Motor Vehicle Code contains provisions on size, weight and load and on other standards for safe operation on the highways.

WHEN A TRUCKER picks up a farmer's hogs or cattle for delivery to market, it is implied that he will take reasonable precautions to insure safe and prompt delivery. If, through the trucker's negligence, animals are injured or are delivered too late or suffer from heat or overcrowding, the farmer is entitled to damages. Truckers normally provide insurance against the hazards involved in carrying livestock.

Although Illinois statutes give balers, shellers and threshermen a lien or claim against the hay or grain for the amount of their service, truckers have no such prior claim. However, they are protected in many instances through the practice of deduct-

Expect unsettled farm markets in months ahead

A University of Illinois farm economist said that we should expect unsettled markets during the months ahead. He gave four reasons for his warning.

L. H. Simerl says, first, the all-important corn crop is made largely during July and August. Yield depends mainly on rainfall and also on corn borer damage.

Second, military operations always have a strong influence on market activities, since they interfere with normal production and distribution processes.

Third, needs for price control and rationing will be discussed by the public and probably debated by Congress.

FINALLY, even before the recent international developments, many people had little confidence in prevailing price levels. Now most people are even more uncertain about probable price

Oat diseases are showing up this year

Grey spot, red leaf, race 45 of leaf rust, oat blast, and scab are the most common trouble-makers in oats this year. W. M. Bever, federal crop pathologist at the Illinois College of Agriculture, says these diseases will not affect the state yield very much. However, severe outbreaks will cause some loss in fields locally.

If you've noticed 4 to 10 foot round spots in your oat field that appear to be ripening ahead of the rest of the crop, that's a pretty sure sign of grey spot. Look closer and you'll see that the grain is light and chaffy. Later, when the whole crop matures, the infected areas will remain an ashy-gray color.

No one knows the cause of grey spot, says Bever, and there's no control for it yet.

Last year the infected chaffy grain reduced the test weight of some Illinois crops by 5 pounds a bushel. Grey spot lowered yields 10 to 15 bushels in some cases and may do the same this year.

YOU MAY find red leaf along with grey spot. Don't confuse the two diseases just because they are usually found together. You can recognize red leaf by the reddish color of the infected leaves. These leaves die prematurely and become heavily infected with a secondary fungus that makes them look black. Red leaf is caused by bad weather during the growing season.

Race 45 of leaf rust has been found in central and southern Illinois oat fields. It may be in northern Illinois, too, but no survey has yet been made. You can recognize leaf rust by the bright yellow fungus growth on the leaf surface. Race 45 looks like any other race of leaf rust on oats. But it is the predominant race attacking Clinton and other Bond-type oats.

Oat blast is common again this year, but there is no known control of it. Late planting and adverse weather at the time the grain forms are responsible for the disease. It is easily recognized by the white, sterile spikelets usually found at base of a head of oats. Some varieties are more resistant to the disease than others.

IF YOU SEE any oat heads that have one or more spikelets covered with a pinkish fungus growth, it's likely you have scab in your oats. Scab can change your plans if you're thinking of feeding the oats to hogs.

Bever says as little as 2½ per cent of scabby oats in grain will cause hogs to refuse to eat it or to become sick when they do eat it.

behavior.

Simerl says a major business boom was in progress long before Korea made the headlines and that the war news adds strength to an already strong market situation. But prices of farm products and other raw materials will drop from time to time, especially after marked rises. All of these things should be considered carefully in making medium and long-time farm plans.

DHIA records boost
butterfat per cow 57
pounds in 10 years

It certainly pays off in larger profits to keep dairy herd improvement association records, says Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

He bases his statement on facts from Leo Fryman, dairyman in the Illinois College of Agriculture.

Fryman says that 318 herds in Illinois completed 10 years or more of DHIA testing in 1948. That year they average 57 more pounds of butterfat per cow than the first year they tested. They'd gone up from 311 pounds

Party Shortcake

Truly a party pie is this sweet biscuit shortcake cut into wedges, then heaped high with raspberries and glorified with whipped cream cheese piping.

For gala vacation parties during the summer, solve dessert problems with a deluxe shortcake. Fluffy shortcakes made with enriched flour please both eye and palate, and score on good nutrition, too.

Who could resist taking their B-vitamins and iron in the raspberry party shortcake pictured? Allow about five minutes to mix the simple drop biscuit batter which needs only to be spread in a greased nine-inch layer cake pan. The batter looks lumpy as it goes into the hot oven, but it comes out golden brown, fluffy and even-textured in 20 to 25 minutes.

You may want to split the big biscuit in half and fill as well as top it with fresh raspberries. To decorate, whip cream cheese fluffy with a little milk and pile into pastry bag. Pipe around each wedge. Once raspberry shortcake was strictly a summertime treat, but now its refreshing flavor provides a lift all the year around, for frozen or canned raspberries make a delectable topping, too.

RASPBERRY SHORTCAKE

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar

6 tablespoons shortening
3/4 to 1 cup milk
Sweetened raspberries
Whipped cream

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to make a thick batter, stirring only until flour is well moistened. Spread in ungreased 9-inch layer cake pan. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Cut in pie-shaped wedges. Heap with sweetened raspberries. Garnish with whipped cream.

Makes 1 9-inch shortcake.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. When dining in a restaurant, if food is brought in in individual dishes, is it correct to place dishes in one's plate for eating, or to transfer the food to one's plate for eating?

A. When food is served in such dishes, it should be eaten directly from them. The dishes should remain on the table approximately where they have been placed by the waiter. Under no circumstances should a dish be placed on the plate.

Q. Do the bridegroom and his best man enter the church side by side for the wedding ceremony?

A. They enter the church, usually from the vestry—but the bridegroom should precede, followed by the best man.

Q. Should a vegetable be buttered at the dinner table with the knife or the fork?

A. With the fork.

Q. What is a good outline for the bride-to-be to follow in preparation for her wedding?

A. (1) Decide upon type of wedding. (2) Set the date. (3) Consult clergyman and organist. (4) Choose her attendants. (5) Plan reception or breakfast. (6) Prepare guest list. (7) Select wedding gown. (8) Mail invitations. (9) Confer with florist and caterer. (10) Arrange for wedding pictures.

Q. Is it all right for a woman, who is eating in a restaurant, to place her purse and gloves on the corner of the table?

A. Never; she should either keep them in her lap or place them on one of the vacant chairs.

Q. What is the best way for parents to thank friends who have sent gifts to their new baby?

A. The preferred form is to send personal notes, expressing sincere appreciation.

Q. Would it be correct to serve children first at the dinner table, in order that they may finish and go out to play?

A. No; this would make the children selfish and rude. The Fainting not a

sissy pastime;
it's natural

A recent issue of a popular magazine published a number of pictures of soldiers who had fainted while standing at attention while their companies were being reviewed.

The Chicago Heart Association comes forward with the explanation that these men were not sissies, nor were they suffering from sunstroke, as the article implied. Their fainting was a perfectly natural phenomena.

The huskiest man or woman, the Association explains, will faint if he or she stands absolutely still long enough — and "long enough" doesn't necessarily have to be very long. The reason is that blood returning to the heart from the capillaries (the smallest vessels of the circulatory system) passes through the veins by a special mechanism. Muscle contractions squeeze the veins and force the blood in them back toward the heart.

WHEN YOU STAND absolutely still for a long period, your leg muscles do not squeeze the veins and the blood flow is retarded. A volume of blood piles up in your legs and an insufficient blood supply reaches your brain. Nature reacts to this by making you unconscious and you fall. In the horizontal position, the blood in your veins does not have to work against gravity and can reach the head again. With adequate blood flowing to the brain, you regain consciousness. This often happens to soldiers standing at rigid attention on parade. It also explains why dizziness or fainting can sometimes be overcome by lying down or by leaning over with your head between your knees.

When you are forced to stand still for any length of time, such as on a crowded streetcar, teeter up and down on your toes every now and then. It will help your circulation.

grown people should always be served first, the children should be taught to be patient and to observe the rules of good manners.

Q. If the marriage ceremony is to be performed in the clergyman's home or study, how are invitations issued?

A. Usually notes are sent to those whom the bride and bridegroom wish to have present.

Q. Is it good form to use ruled paper for social correspondence?

A. No; use plain, white, unruled paper of good quality.

Q. What are the hours for a wedding breakfast?

A. It's a wedding breakfast if it takes place before one p. m. After that, it's a reception.

Legion asks universal military training

George N. Craig of Brazil, Ind., American Legion national commander, has called for the enactment of universal military training.

"Universal military training is the least expensive and most effective national security measure we can adopt," Craig said.

Universal Military Training will provide a vast manpower pool of trained civilian reservists from which, in case of war, our country could draw. Universal Military Training will provide military training and experience in advance of any possible service.

Universal Military Training is covered with cob-webs in Congressional pigeon-holes.

To give this plea, the weight of its patriotic example, the American Legion throws overboard for the duration of the present crisis its advocacy of any new veterans' pension legislation.

Also for the duration the American Legion shall support no bonus bills, and shall ask no additional benefits or extensions of time under the G. I. Bill of Rights, except to make them applicable to those now fighting our war in Korea.

May Not Be Flattering

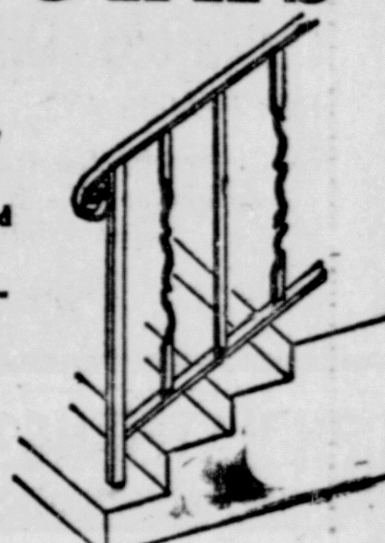

Green can be used successfully on an area of any size and in any section of the household. Be careful, however, not to use too yellow a green when painting bathroom walls. Near the mirror where you face yourself in the morning, it has an unflattering effect on the complexion. It makes you not-so-sure-that-you-feel-too-well.

Don't tire your tires — leave them alone

The advice which the Chicago Motor Club gives regarding over-inflated tires is the easiest to follow: let them alone.

Car owners in the midst of a summer tour are often in doubt about the correct care of tires which pick up pressure from incessant poundings on a sun-baked highway.

Just let them be, says the motor club. They may pick up from two to eight pounds in air pressure during the course of a day's summer driving but this will be lost as the automobile stands overnight in cooler temperature.

Drivers who check the tires every time they stop for gas are running a risk, according to the motoring organization. The tire gauges at different service stations may vary as much as five pounds. Ideally, a motorist should carry his own gauge, testing it periodically for accuracy. Those who don't are advised to check air pressure once a day, in the morning when the tires are cool.

THE PROPER inflation of tires under normal conditions is important but it is dependent upon the make of the tire, its size and the weight it must carry. Motorists should consult their local dealer about correct air pressure for their tires.

Another headache for summer drivers is overheated radiators. Most radiators "heat up" because motorists fail to keep them filled with water. In others, however, rust from the engine interior permeates the water and causes the radiator pipes to clog. The water then backs up and is lost through the overflow outlet just beneath the radiator cap.

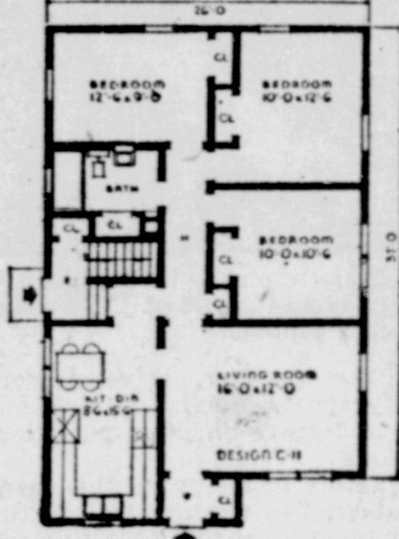

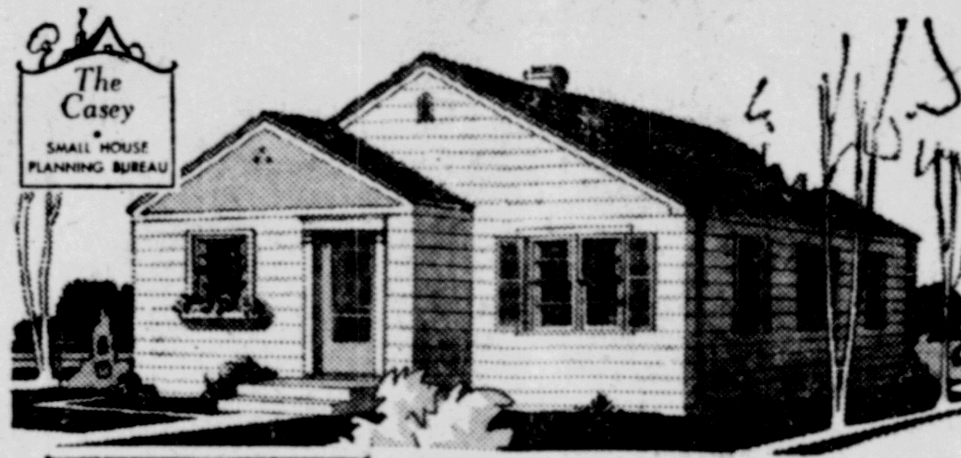

This can easily be avoided by keeping the radiator filled with clean water. Occasional flushings will eliminate foreign matter.

Jewel sales up

Jewel Tea Co., Inc. reports that retail sales for the four weeks ended July 15, 1950, were $14,055,143, an increase of 14.2% or $1,749,428 over the same weeks of last year.

Accumulated sales for the twenty-eight weeks ended July 15, 1950, totaled $96,918,788, a gain of 8.7% over sales of $89,183,410 a year ago.

New ideas for that home

THE CASEY is a three-bedroom house suitable for a narrow lot. The liberal number of closets in this plan should delight the homemaker whose problem it is to find sufficient storage space.

A closet at the grade entrance of The Casey and a general closet in the hall are available in addition to the usual vestibule coat closet, the linen closet and large wardrobes in each of the bedrooms.

All of the rooms in The Casey, including the kitchen, open into one central hall. This arrangement eliminates the need of passing through one room before entering another. The Casey's modern kitchen is arranged in an efficient U-shape. There is a large well-lighted dining area at one end of the room.

The Casey has a full basement. Its exterior walls are of frame construction with siding. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles. Dimensions of The Casey are 26 feet by 27 feet with a 4 foot front projection.

The house has an area of 1-
